HISTORICAL SUMMARY.

THE early history of the ROYAL COLLEGE OF SURGEONS OF ENGLAND is the history of two Companies, which, existing at first as separate fraternities or guilds, were for a time united into one body corporate, and finally became resolved again into two distinct Corporations. One of these, the Barbers' Company of London, is first definitely mentioned, in the records preserved at the Guildhall, in the year 1308, when Richard le Barber was presented and sworn before the Court of Aldermen as Master and Supervisor of the Barbers' Guild; and from an Ordinance of the City made in the previous year it is evident that the Barbers of London were at that time engaged in the practice of at least some branches of Surgery. The other Company, known as the Fellowship or Guild of Surgeons, is mentioned in the City records in the year 1369, when two Masters were sworn before the Court of Aldermen and given power to report the faults of unskilful Surgeons.

Origin of the College.

The Barbers' Company first mentioned in 1308.

The Surgeons' Guild mentioned in 1369.

Between these two bodies there was for many years a keen rivalry and jealousy. Each tried by turns to attain supremacy of authority and jurisdiction in matters relating to the practice of Surgery. In the year 1376 the Barbers made a complaint to the Mayor and Aldermen against unskilled practitioners in Surgery, and obtained an Ordinance providing that two Masters should be appointed annually to direct and rule the Craft, to inspect instruments, and to see that none should be admitted to the franchise of the City except after attestation of their skill by good examination. Fourteen years later, however, four Masters of the Surgeons' Guild were sworn before the Court of Aldermen, and they were invested with the power of scrutiny among persons practising Surgery and with authority to present defaults. But in the year 1410 the Barbers obtained from the Court of Aldermen confirmation of the privileges granted to them in 1376 with the addition that they should be enjoyed "without the scrutiny of any person or persons of any other craft or trade under any name whatsoever other than the craft or trade of the said Barbers."

Rivalry between the two Companies.

Barbers' Ordinance of 1376.

Surgeons' Ordinance of 1390.

Barbers' Ordinance confirmed in 1410.

The Barbers' Company was by this time assuming a twofold character, for it consisted of two classes of members, those who were Barbers simply or practised only the minor branches of Surgery, such as blood-letting and tooth-drawing, and those who exercised the faculty of Surgery. In the year 1415 the Mayor and Aldermen required the Company to furnish them with a list of all the latter class of members, from which they selected two as Masters of those practising Surgery, leaving to the Company itself the election of the Masters of the Barbers. Meanwhile the Guild of Surgeons sought an alliance with the Physicians. About the year 1423, probably through the influence of Thomas Morstede (a Surgeon who accompanied Henry V. to Agincourt and who was afterwards Surgeon to Henry VI.), they obtained an Ordinance from the Court of Aldermen having for its object an association or Commonalty of Physicians and Surgeons. Fortified by the support of the Physicians, the Surgeons once more challenged the surgical privileges of the Barbers, but these were again confirmed by the Mayor and Aldermen in 1424. The scheme for a combination of Physicians and Surgeons fell through, but the Surgeons continued a separate body with Ordinances for the government of their Society. The volume containing these Ordinances, which were made in the year 1435, is still in existence and is now in the possession of the Barbers' Company.

Provisions of the Charter of 1st Edward IV.

Freed from opposition, the Barbers' Company continued to grow in importance, and in the year 1462 the right of its members to practise Surgery was definitely established by LETTERS PATENT granted by EDWARD IV. in the first year of his reign. This Charter, from which the Royal College of Surgeons of England, as recited in the Charter of 1800, dates its constitutional history as a body corporate, was granted to the Freemen of the Mystery of Barbers of the City of London practising Surgery. They were made one Body and Perpetual Community with a Common Seal and with power to hold lands and make Bye-Laws. Provision was made for the annual election of two Masters to rule the Community, to have the scrutiny and government of all persons practising Surgery in London and its suburbs, as well as the supervision of their instruments and medicines, and to have power to inflict punishment upon offenders by fines, imprisonment and other reasonable means. No person was to be allowed to practise Surgery within the City of London and its suburbs unless first approved by the Masters of the Company. The surgical rights of the Barbers' Company were thus firmly established, and, as testimony to the eminence attained by the Surgeons of the Company, it is worthy of note that the Senior Warden of the Company, when the Charter was granted, was WILLIAM HOBBS, Serjeant-Surgeon to the King—probably the first to hold that office.

In the year 1493 the Guild of Surgeons, which had continued as a separate body, entered into an alliance or "Composition" with the Barbers' Company, by which the two Companies agreed each to appoint two Wardens, the four so appointed to act together in all matters relating to Surgery and to the examination and government of its practitioners.

The Charter granted by Edward IV. to the Barbers' Company was confirmed by Henry VII. and also by Henry VIII., but in 1511 an Act (3 Henry VIII. cap. 11) was passed, constituting a further licensing authority by enacting that no person should practise as a Physician or Surgeon in London, or within seven miles of the same, unless first examined and approved by the Bishop of London, or the Dean of St. Paul's, with the assistance of four Physicians or Surgeons. Two years later, upon the petition of the Guild of Surgeons, another Act (5 Henry VIII. cap. 6) was passed, providing that a limited number of members of the Fellowship (or Guild) of Surgeons, as also of members of the Barbers' Company duly admitted as Surgeons, should be exempt from Constableness and Watch and from bearing arms and serving upon inquests and juries within the City of London.

IN THE YEAR 1540 the two Companies, which had so long been associated by voluntary agreement, were formally united by Act of Parliament, and thus entered upon a new era in their career. The Act (32nd HENRY VIII. cap. 42) after reciting that there were two distinct Companies of Surgeons in London, one called the Barbers of London and the other the Surgeons of London, enacted that the two Companies should from thenceforth be united and made one Body Corporate, to be called by the name of the Masters or Governors of the Mystery and Commonalty of the Barbers and Surgeons of London. The United Company was to enjoy all the rights and privileges at any time granted to the two separate Companies. Four Masters or Governors, two to be Surgeons and two to be Barbers, were to be appointed annually; barbers were forbidden to perform any surgical operations, except the drawing of teeth, and surgeons were not to exercise the craft of barbery and shaving. Provision was also made for the study of Anatomy by giving the Company the right to claim four bodies annually of persons executed for felony. THOMAS VICARY, Serjeant-Surgeon to Henry VIII. and afterwards to Mary and to Elizabeth, was elected the first Master. The United Company shared the possession of Barbers' Hall, which is known to have occupied its present site in Monkwell Street since 1490 and was probably there even before that. The Hall,

The Union thus effected was destined to last for more than two hundred years. At first, however, the privileges conferred on the Surgeons of the Company appear to have excited opposition, for in the 34th and 35th years of Henry VIII. an Act was passed allowing unlicensed persons to treat outward sores and swellings with herbs and ointments.

Origin of
Examiners in 1555.

During the reign of QUEEN MARY, in the year 1555, Regulations were drawn up relating to the examination of persons for the Company's Licence to practise. These Regulations provided for the appointment of thirteen Examiners, including the Master and two Governors. This is the origin of the Court of Examiners of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, although it was not until the time of Charles I. that the appointment of ten Examiners—the number continued to this day—was provided for by Charter.

Letters Patent
of James I.
thereof, 1605.

In the year 1605 the Company obtained a Charter from JAMES I. providing that the Governing Body of the Company should consist of four Masters or Governors, two of whom were to be Surgeons, and twenty-six Assistants. The Company was given power to examine Barbers and Surgeons, and to prohibit ignorant persons, or such as wilfully refused to be examined, from practising.

Letters Patent
of Charles I.
thereof, 1629.

In the year 1629 CHARLES I. granted a further Charter to the Company, providing that ten Freemen of the Company should be elected and constituted Examiners of Surgeons in London. No one was to practise Surgery in London, or within seven miles of it, except Members of the College of Physicians, unless examined and approved by the Examiners of the Company, and every person so approved might practise Surgery anywhere in England. Apprentices were to serve for not less than seven years, to be sound in body and limbs, and to read and understand Latin. The duty was also assigned to the Court of Examiners of examining Surgeons and Surgeons' Assistants for the Royal Navy and Merchant Service and of inspecting their instruments and chests of medicines. This duty they and their successors, the Company of Surgeons and the Royal College of Surgeons, continued to discharge until other arrangements were made at a comparatively recent date.

Surgeons
object to their union with the Barbers, 1684.

For many years the union between the two Companies appears to have worked smoothly, but as early as 1684 there were signs that the Surgeons were beginning to find their association with the Barbers irksome and inconvenient. In that year a Petition for the dissolution of the United Company was presented to the King, but the agitation died out, and it was not until many years later that further steps were taken in the matter. The dissatisfaction, however, continued. From the year 1540 the practice of Surgery had been entirely separated from that of barbery, and much progress had been made in surgical skill and knowledge. Under the United Company several of the Surgeons had attained great eminence in their profession, and among these may be mentioned Richard Ferris, Thomas Gale, the two Clowes', Wiseman, Amyand, Cheselden, Sir Caesar Hawkins, and Percivall Pott. The Surgeons resented the presence of Barbers at their examinations, and objected to the signatures of Barbers appearing upon Surgical Diplomas. In 1744 they informed the Barbers that they intended to petition Parliament for the dissolution of the union. The Barbers protested against this, and both parties presented Petitions to Parliament. The Surgeons prevailed, and in the year 1745 an Act of Parliament was passed dissolving the union and establishing two separate Companies. The Barbers were allowed to retain the whole of the Corporate property, real and personal, with the exception of the Arris Bequest and Gale's Annuity for Anatomy Lectures founded in 1646 and 1655 respectively. These Trusts the Act vested in the Company of Surgeons, and they are now administered by the Royal College of Surgeons.

Petition for dissolution of union presented, 1744.

The union dissolved in 1745.

This Act of the 18th GEORGE II. dissolving the union of the Barbers and the Surgeons incorporated the Surgeons under the name of the Master, Governors and Commonalty of the Art and Science of Surgeons of London, and constituted a governing body consisting of twenty-one Assistants appointed for life, of whom one was to be Master and two Governors or Wardens elected annually, and of whom ten were to be Examiners appointed for life. JOHN RANBY, Serjeant-Surgeon to George II. (whom he accompanied to the battle of Dettingen in 1743), became the first Master of the Company, and upon taking his seat he presented a handsome silver cup, which is still in the possession of the College. The First Wardens were JOSEPH SANDFORD and WILLIAM CHESelden. These appointments were made by the Act, which also specified by name the ten Examiners and sixteen Members of the Court of Assistants. The sixteen thus appointed were directed to meet forthwith, and select from the Freemen of the Company five others to complete the number of the Court. Thereafter, the Court were to meet on the first Thursday in July in each succeeding year for the election of the Master and Governors, and to fill up any vacancies, which from time to time might occur from death or resignation among the Examiners and Assistants. In addition to examining Surgeons for the Navy the Examiners were also required to examine all candidates for the posts of Surgeon or Surgeons' Mate in the Army. The Freeman of the Company were to enjoy the same Surgical privileges as approved Surgeons of the United Company had enjoyed under the Act of Union and Charter of Charles I., and, while in the practice of their profession, were to be exempt from all Parish, Ward, and Leet Offices and from serving upon Juries.

Surgeons Hall
built.

The Surgeons had to find a new home, and, after holding their first meetings at Stationers' Hall, eventually secured premises in the Old Bailey and there built Surgeons' Hall, entering into occupation in 1751. Here the business of the Company was transacted until 1796, when the Court of Assistants, finding the building in need of substantial repair and their tenure of the premises secured for not more than fifty-five years, determined to dispose of the property and erect a new building upon a freehold site.

Difficulties
caused by irregular meeting of Court of Assistants in 1796.

About this time the Company became involved in difficulties in consequence of a provision in the Act of Incorporation which had unfortunately been framed without due regard to possible eventualities. This provision required that the Master and Governors, or any two of them, with nine or more members of the Court of Assistants, should constitute a Court for the despatch of business. On the 7th July, 1796, a meeting was held at which the Master, Mr. Gunning, presided, but at which no Governor was present, one having died in the previous May and the other being too ill to attend. Consequently it was impossible to obtain a properly constituted quorum. Nevertheless the Court conducted its ordinary business, and among other matters elected Henry Cline to the Court of Assistants. In spite of this technical defect in their constitution, the Court of Assistants continued to transact the business of the Company. They disposed of their property in the Old Bailey and acquired a freehold site in Lincoln's Inn Fields, upon which part of the present building of the Royal College of Surgeons of England now stands. The business of the Company was not suspended. Examinations were held and Diplomas were issued. The Examinations of Surgeons for the Navy and Army were also continued.

Endeavour to

Act of Parliament abandoned, and

Charter presented.

It became, however, necessary to find some means of removing the legal difficulties which had arisen, and, for this purpose and also with the object of acquiring additional powers and authority, a Bill was introduced into Parliament. The Bill passed through the Commons, but was thrown out in the House of Lords; and after further deliberation it was determined to abandon the Bill and to petition for a Charter from the Crown.

Meanwhile Parliament entrusted to the care of the Company the Hunterian Collection purchased for the Nation at a cost of £15,000. The Collection was delivered to the Company under an Order of the Treasury, dated 28th November, 1799, and in March 1800 the Company was re-incorporated and constituted by the name of the Royal College of Surgeons in London, by Charter granted by George III. In the year 1806 Parliament voted a sum of £15,000, and subsequently a further sum of £12,500, in aid of the erection of a building for the display of the Hunterian Collection. A contribution of £21,000 was at the same time made from the funds of the College, and the Museum was opened to visitors in 1813.

The Charter of the 40th GEORGE III. definitively severed the connexion of the College with the Corporation of the City of London. Members of the College were not entitled to any franchise belonging to the Freemen of the City, but all other privileges and possessions acquired under former Acts and Charters, and not altered by the Charter then granted, were continued and ratified. The Court of Assistants still consisted of twenty-one Members appointed for life with power to fill up vacancies as they might happen, and from them were chosen the ten Examiners, the Master and two Governors or Wardens being selected from these ten. The two principal Serjeant-Surgeons and the Surgeon-General to the Forces, if not already on the Courts of Assistants and Examiners, were always to be admitted into those Courts in preference to all other persons, when any vacancy should occur.

CHARLES HAWKINS, Serjeant-Surgeon to George III., was appointed the First Master, and WILLIAM LONG and GEORGE CHANDLER became the first Governors. All Members of the old Company of Surgeons, on signifying their acceptance of the Charter, were entitled to become Members of the College, and any person in the future desiring to become a Member was required to pass an examination and obtain "Letters Testimonial of his Qualification to practise the Art and Science of Surgery under the Common Seal of the College." In addition to examining candidates for the Membership, the Court of Examiners were required, as under the former Acts and Charters, to examine all Army and Navy Surgeons, their Assistants and Mates, and to inspect their instruments.

A further Charter, granted by GEORGE IV. in 1822, changed the titles Master and Governors to President and Vice-Presidents, and provided that the Court of Assistants should in future be styled the Council of the College.

Further provision for the election of Fellows in 1852.

No change was, however, made in the constitution of the College until the year 1843, when a new Charter (7th VICTORIA) was obtained, which changed the name of the College to The Royal College of Surgeons of England, and instituted a new class of Members, who were to be called FELLOWS, from and by whom the Council were to be elected. The number of the Council was increased to twenty-four, and, while the existing Members of the Council were allowed to continue in office for life, provision was made that three elected Members should retire annually, so that, when no more life-Members were left, it would not be possible for a Member to retain his seat for a longer period than eight years without re-election.

A great change was also effected by this Charter in the constitution of the Court of Examiners. They were no longer to be necessarily selected from the Council, but any Fellow, whether on the Council or not, was made eligible. The Examiners then in office were to continue for life, but all future Examiners were to hold office only during the pleasure of the Council. The Serjeant-Surgeons and Surgeon-General to the Forces were no longer to have any preference of being admitted Examiners, and the President and Vice-Presidents were not to be chosen exclusively from the Examiners but from all the Members of the Council indifferently, whether Examiners of the College or not.

The Charter further provided that the President, Vice-Presidents and Members of the Council should be Fellows, and directed them to elect, within three months from the date of the Charter, not less than 250 and not more than 300 Members of the College to be Fellows. They were also given power to appoint other Members to be Fellows within one year from the date of the Charter. With these exceptions no persons were to be admitted to the Fellowship except by examination, nor until attaining the age of twenty-five years. The first Fellows, 300 in number, were chosen mainly from the Surgeons, Assistant-Surgeons and Lecturers of the Metropolitan and Provincial Hospitals. They were elected under one general Diploma on December 11th, 1843. A further election of 242 Fellows took place on the 26th August, 1844, and these included a considerable number of representatives of the Naval, Military and Indian Forces.

In the year 1852 further extension of the principle of election to the Fellowship without examination was made by a Supplemental Charter (15th VICTORIA), which enabled the Council to elect Members of fifteen years' standing to the Fellowship, provided they were Members when the Charter of 1843 was enacted. The Council were also empowered to admit annually to the Fellowship, without examination, two Members of the College of twenty years' standing, and authority was given for the ad eundem admission to the Fellowship, under certain conditions, of Fellows by examination of the Dublin and the Edinburgh Colleges of Surgeons, and the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow. This Charter also provided that Members of the Court of Examiners thereafter elected should go out of office at the end of five years, but should be eligible for immediate re-election. Provision was also made for the appointment of a Board of Examiners in Midwifery for testing the fitness of persons to practise Midwifery, and Licences in Midwifery were granted to persons passing the Examinations of the Board until the year 1875, after which the Examinations were discontinued.

Licence in Dental Surgery instituted in 1859.

In the year 1875 an Act of Parliament was passed to enable the College to associate itself with one or more of the Colleges or Bodies named in Medical Acts for the purpose of conducting joint examinations for qualifications to be registered under the Acts. In pursuance of the provisions of this Act the College subsequently entered into an Agreement with the Royal College of Physicians of London, establishing a CONJOINT EXAMINING BOARD and requiring that all candidates for the Licence of the Royal College of Physicians of London and the Membership of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, commencing professional study after the 1st October, 1884, should pass the Examinations of the Board before becoming entitled to their Diplomas. Thus was constituted the present Examining Board of the two Colleges. The lease of a site on the Victoria Embankment was acquired from the Duchy of Lancaster, and on this an Examination Hall for the Board was erected at the joint expense of the two Colleges. The foundation-stone was laid by QUEEN VICTORIA on the 24th March 1886, and the Hall was first used for examinations in the year 1887. In addition to the examinations for the L.R.C.P. Lond. and M.R.C.S. Eng., examinations are also conducted by the Board for a Diploma in Public Health, granted jointly by the two Colleges, the first examination for this Diploma being held in 1887. Further, in 1904, the question of establishing an examination and Diploma in Tropical Medicine and Hygiene was considered, at the suggestion of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, but, while the Charter of 1888 allows Fellows to record votes at Council Elections by papers sent through Post.

In the year 1888 a Supplemental Charter was obtained, mainly with the objects of enabling the College to hold lands and hereditaments of a greater yearly value than that previously sanctioned, and of allowing Fellows to record their votes at elections to the Council by voting-papers sent through the Post, instead of by personal attendance at the College, as required up to that time.

Honorary Fellowship instituted by Charter in 1899.

The last Charter, obtained by the College in 1899, the 63rd year of Queen Victoria's reign, enables the Council to elect persons, whom they shall deem to be sufficiently distinguished for the purpose, to be Honorary Fellows of the College. These Honorary Fellows, the number of whom must not exceed fifty at any time, are not eligible for the Council or for the Court of Examiners, nor are they entitled to vote at Elections to the Council. Their status is purely honorary and does not confer the right to practise Surgery. The first to become an Honorary Fellow was KING EDWARD VII., who, when Prince of Wales, was graciously pleased to accept the Diploma. At the head of a list of distinguished names the College now has the honour to place that of KING GEORGE V. His Majesty, when Prince of Wales, became an Honorary Fellow of the College, and, after ascending the Throne, signified his pleasure to retain the title.

New Examination Hall built.

In the year 1908 the Examination Hall on the Victoria Embankment was sold, and a freehold site in Queen Square, Bloomsbury, was subsequently purchased. Upon this site a new Examination Hall has been built by the two Colleges, and since May 1912 the Examinations of the Conjoint Board have been conducted in this building.

SECT. XIV.—EXAMINATION AND ADMISSION OF MEMBERS.

1. No person under the age of Twenty-one years shall become a Member of the College nor unless and until he shall have passed the Examinations for Qualifications to be registered under the Medical Act, held by the Examining Board for the time being constituted under the Scheme and Regulations approved and adopted by the Royal College of Physicians of London on March 12th, 1883, and by the College on April 29th, 1883 (herein called the Joint Examinations), and complied with the conditions relating thereto contained in the said Scheme and Regulations, or such conditions as may be agreed upon between the College of Physicians and the College for the time being. Nothing contained in this Section shall diminish or affect the right of any person who shall have commenced professional study before the 1st of October, 1884, to be examined for and to receive the Diploma of Member of the College; but such right, where it exists, shall remain and continue, to all intents and purposes, as if this Bye-Law had not been enacted.

2. The Diploma of Member shall be in such Form as the Council may from time to time judge proper.

3. The Seal of the College shall be affixed to the Diploma of every Member of the College.

4. Every person, prior to his admission as a Member of the College, shall, in the presence of an Officer of the College, make and subscribe his name to the following Declaration:—

5. Every person, prior to his admission as a Member, shall subscribe his name to a Copy of the Bye-Laws of the College, in testimony of his having engaged himself to the observance thereof.

6. The fee for the Diploma of Member, exclusive of the fees payable for the Licence of the Royal College of Physicians of London under the Scheme and Regulations for the Joint Examinations, shall be such sum not exceeding Twenty Guineas and shall be payable in such manner and at such times as the Council from time to time direct, and in addition thereto there shall be paid the Stamp Duty, if any, on such Diploma and such reasonable fees for and in case of re-examination as shall be in like manner directed.

7. If the Court of Examiners shall find any circumstance in the Character, Conduct, or mode of Practice of any Candidate for Examination which in their opinion renders such Candidate unfit to be admitted a Member of the College, the said Court shall have the power of declining to examine him until the opinion of the Council shall have been taken thereon.

SECT. XV.—RIGHTS OF FELLOWS AND MEMBERS.

The Council will, at all times, protect and defend every Fellow and Member of the College who may be disturbed in the exercise and enjoyment of the Rights, Privileges, Exemptions, and Immunities, acquired by him as a Fellow and Member or Member thereof.

2. 3. Any Fellow or Member who shall have been removed by Resolution of the Council as aforesaid shall thereby forfeit all his rights and privileges as a Fellow and Member or a Member of the College; and his Diplomas or Diploma shall thereupon be void and shall become the property of the College, and be delivered up by such Fellow or Member to the College on demand, provided that if at any subsequent time the Council of the College by Resolution, and subject to such conditions as they may think proper, rescind any Resolution which may have been passed under any of the preceding Bye-Laws for removing any person from being a Fellow and Member or Member of the College, such rescinding of the former Resolution shall have the effect of restoring such person to the Fellowship or Membership of the College, and such person shall, notwithstanding such removal or forfeiture as aforesaid, but subject to such conditions as the Council may in the particular case see fit to impose, be restored to his rights and privileges as a Fellow and Member or a Member of the College.

And every Fellow or Member of the College who shall thereupon be removed as aforesaid shall forfeit all his rights and privileges as a Fellow and Member or a Member thereof.

2. All meetings convened by or under the authority of the President or Council of the College, as well for general business as for the delivery of Orations or Lectures, or for the distribution of Prizes, shall be under the control and direction of the President or other Member of the Council presiding at such Meeting. And any Fellow or Member of the College who shall interrupt, impede, or interfere with the proceedings at any such Meeting, or shall propose any matter for discussion or debate without the leave of the President or other person so presiding, shall, upon being required by the President or other person so presiding, immediately withdraw from such Meeting; and shall be moreover liable to be restrained and excluded by the Council from attending any Orations and Lectures at the Theatre, and from any use of or admission to the Library and Museum, and to be suspended from any or all other privileges which he may have as a Fellow and Member or a Member of the College, for any such period as the Council may adjudge. HUNTERIAN ORATION.

In the year 1813 Dr. Matthew Baillie and Sir Everard Home, Bart., Executors of John Hunter, "being desirous of showing a lasting mark of respect to the memory of the late Mr. John Hunter," gave to the College the sum of £1684 4s. 4d. Three per cent Consolidated Bank Annuities for the endowment of an annual Oration, to be called the Hunterian Oration, and to be delivered in the Theatre of the College on the 14th of February, the Birthday of John Hunter, by the Master, or one of the Governors for the time being, or such other Member of the Court of Assistants as should be appointed by the Master and Governors or any two of them—such Oration to be expressive of the merits in Comparative Anatomy, Physiology, and Surgery, not only of John Hunter, but also of all such persons, as should be from time to time deceased, whose labours have contributed to the improvement or extension of Surgical Science.

The Endowment was accepted by the College under a Deed of Trust dated the 9th October 1813, containing, amongst others, the following conditions:—That the Fund should be vested in the names of three Members of the Court of Assistants; that £10, part of the interest accruing from the Fund, should be given to the Orator; and that the remainder of the interest should be expended in providing a Dinner, on the day of the delivery of the Oration, for the Members of the Court of Assistants and such other persons as the Master and Governors for the time being should think proper to invite.

In 1853, after consultation with the representatives of the founders of the Trust, it was decided that the Oration should in future be delivered biennially instead of annually.

The fund was re-invested in 1900, and at the present time consists of £1850 India Three per Cent. Stock.

In 1894, by permission of the Lords of the Treasury, this Clause was altered to the following, viz.:—

ARRIS AND GALE LECTURES.

The Arris Lectures were founded in 1646 by Mr. Edward Arris, a Member of the Company of Barbers and Surgeons, of which he became Master in 1651. He was also an Alderman of the City of London in that year. He died on the 28th May 1676. His portrait in one picture with a portrait of Sir Charles Scarborough, who was appointed to deliver the Arris Lectures in 1649, is in the possession of the Barbers' Company.

From the Minute Books of the Company of Barbers and Surgeons it appears that on the 24th March 1646 Mr. Edward Arris paid to the Company a sum of £300 "for the use of the new publique Anatomy." This sum was subsequently repaid to Mr. Arris, and in lieu thereof he settled upon the Company an annuity of £30, which shortly before his death he redeemed by the payment of £510. By the Act of Parliament of the 18th George II (1745) for dissolving the Union between the Barbers and Surgeons this sum of £510 was given and vested in the Company of Surgeons then incorporated, and upon the dissolution of that Company became vested in the College. The fund now consists of £433 6s. 8d. Metropolitan Consolidated Three per Cent. Stock.

In the final settlement of the Trust no conditions appear to have been imposed save an understanding that the Anatomy Lectures of the Company were to be continued. By an Act of Parliament passed in 1540 the Company were entitled to claim four bodies annually of persons executed for felony, and to make use of them for the study of Anatomy. The bodies were dissected, and lectures on the muscles and other subjects were given. The Surgeons of the Company were required to attend these lectures and demonstrations, which were called "Public Anatomies." The intention of Mr. Arris was to assist the Company in this work, and the lecturers appointed under this foundation were at first called "Readers of the Muscular Lecture."

Under the Company of Surgeons the Arris Lectures were from 1753 to 1766 delivered by the Masters of Anatomy, of whom the first to be appointed were Percivall Pott and John Hunter. In 1767 the office of Professor of Anatomy was created, and the Arris Lectures were assigned to him.

The Gale Lectures were founded by Mr. John Gale of Bushey, a Member of the Company of Barbers and Surgeons, who, by his Will, dated 13th August 1655, left to the Company an Annuity of £16, payable out of the rents of certain premises on Snow Hill in the City of London, for one Anatomy Lecture in every year to be called Gale's Anatomy.

This Annuity, together with the Arris Bequest, was by the Act of Parliament of 1745 vested in the Company of Surgeons, and upon the dissolution of that Company became vested in the College. In pursuance of Acts of Parliament passed in the 35th and 44th years of George III for the improvement of Snow Hill, the Rent Charge of £16 per annum was purchased by the City of London for the sum of £432, which sum, in accordance with the directions of those Acts, was invested in the name of the Accountant General of the Court of Chancery, until the same shall again be invested in some Real Estate, and the same was laid out in the purchase of £689 16s. 5d. Consolidated Bank Annuities (re-invested in £703 0s. 1d. 2½ per Cent. Consols in 1891), the interest thereof being paid to the College.

The earliest record of a lecture under this Trust is dated 30th June 1698, when it was "ordered that there be an Anatomy Lecture called Gale's Anatomy," and Dr. Havers, well known for his description of the canals in bone, since called Haversian, was appointed the first Reader. The Lecture was afterwards called the Osteology Lecture.

Under the Company of Surgeons the Lecture was at first allotted to the senior Master of Anatomy, and afterwards to the Professor of Anatomy.

At the beginning of the Nineteenth Century, lectures were for a time suspended at the College owing to building operations, but were resumed in 1810. It was then determined that six lectures should be delivered annually under the Arris and Gale Trusts. The lectures were no longer distinguished as "muscular" and "osteological," but were united into one course delivered by a Professor of Anatomy and Surgery. In 1857 the title of the lecturer was altered to Professor of Human Anatomy and Surgery, and in 1868 to Arris and Gale Lecturer. In 1864 the number of lectures was reduced to three. Honorarium for the three lectures, the amount of the dividends received from the Arris Bequest and Gale Annuity—about £29.

ERASMUS WILSON LECTURES.

With the object of promoting the study of the Pathology together with the Anatomy and Physiology, human and comparative, of the Skin and its Appendages, the late Sir Erasmus Wilson gave to the College the sum of £5000 New Three per cent. Consols, under a Deed of Trust, dated the 8th July 1869, to found and endow a Professorship of Dermatology. The Council appointed Sir Erasmus Wilson to the Professorship, and during the period 1870-78 he delivered six lectures annually, and presented to the Museum a large collection of casts and models used in illustration of his lectures.

In 1879 certain alterations in the terms of the Trust were effected with the approval of the Founder, providing that the income derived from the Fund should be devoted to the promotion of original researches by lectures delivered at the College, the number of such lectures not to exceed three in any one year, and to be given by one or more persons to be called Erasmus Wilson Professors of Pathology.

In 1881 further alterations were thought desirable, and under a new Deed of Trust, dated the 13th April 1882, it is now provided that the income of the Fund shall be appropriated in part towards the payment of the salary of a Pathological Curator of the Museum, and in part for the payment of Lectures on the Pathological contents of the Museum to be delivered by the Pathological Curator or some other person appointed for the purpose with the title of Erasmus Wilson Lecturer. Three lectures were delivered annually from 1882 to 1908. In July 1908 it was decided to institute a series of Lectures or Demonstrations on advanced Surgical Pathology, illustrated by specimens in the Museum, and the Erasmus Wilson Lectures now form part of this Series. Six Demonstrations are given annually. Honorarium £30.

In 1900 the fund was re-invested in £4731 13s. Metropolitan Consolidated Three per Cent. Stock, and this amount has since been increased to £5250 by the investment of an unexpended income balance accumulated mainly in the early years of the Trust.

TRIENNIAL PRIZE AND JOHN HUNTER MEDAL.

This Prize was founded by the Court of Assistants in the year 1820, and was first offered for competition in 1822. The honorarium, which is provided from the funds of the College, at first amounted to Thirty Pounds, but in 1840 was increased to Fifty Guineas.

In 1864 a life-size statue of John Hunter by H. Weekes, R.A., was erected in the Museum of the College by public subscription, and with the residue of the subscriptions the Statue Committee founded the John Hunter Medal, which in the year 1867 they entrusted to the College upon the following conditions, viz. :— “That the Medal be awarded to the Author of the Dissertation to which the Collegial Triennial Prize shall from time to time be adjudged on condition that the College, having entrusted to it the custody of the Medal dies for ever and to be used only for the aforesaid purpose, do promise and engage to have such Medal struck at its own proper cost.”

The Prize now consists of the John Hunter Medal executed in Gold to the value of Fifty Guineas, or, at the option of the successful Author of the Dissertation, of the said Medal executed in Bronze with an honorarium of Fifty Pounds.

BLANE MEDALS.

This Medal was founded by Sir Gilbert Blane, Bt., F.R.S., a distinguished physician, best known for the sanitary reforms which he effected in the Navy, and the success of the measures which he introduced for the prevention of scurvy.

Under a Deed of Trust, dated the 13th March 1830, he transferred to the College the sum of £300 three per Cent. Consolidated Bank Annuities to provide for two Gold Medals to be conferred once in every two years on two Medical Officers of the Royal Navy "who in the time required shall have delivered to the proper office Journals evincing the most distinguished proofs of skill, diligence, humanity, and learning in the exercise of their professional duties." The Journals were to be submitted for adjudication to the President of the Royal College of Physicians of London, the President of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, and the Senior Medical Commissioner of the Royal Navy (Director-General of the Medical Department of the Navy).

In 1913, in pursuance of authority given to them under the Deed, the Presidents of the Colleges and the Director-General of the Medical Department of the Navy decided, with the approval of the Lords of the Admiralty, to make certain alterations in the Regulations for the award of the Medals, and it is now provided "that one Medal be awarded annually to the Medical Officer who obtains the highest aggregate marks at the examination for promotion to the rank of Staff Surgeon, now held twice a year in connection with the Courses at the Medical School of the Royal Naval College, Greenwich—the award to be subject to the approval of the Presidents of the Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons respectively, and the Director General of the Medical Department of the Navy."

The fund has been re-invested, and at the present time consists of £300 Metropolitan Consolidated $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. Stock.

I. Elections to the Council.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE.

THE Committee, appointed by the Council on October 12, 1916, to consider the questions raised by Lieut.-Col. James W. Barrett, R.A.M.C., F.R.C.S., of Melbourne, Victoria, in a letter dated September 16, 1916, has held meetings on November 14 and on December 1st, 1916, and begs to submit the following report.

Lieut.-Col. Barrett calls attention to the disabilities under which Fellows of the College, when resident abroad, labour as regards taking part in the election of Members of the Council, and asks whether it could be arranged that nominations should be completed three months before the day of the election, with a view to making possible the issue of voting papers to Fellows resident in all parts of the Empire in sufficient time to admit of their return before the day of the election.

The Committee finds that on August 1, 1916, there were 1619

Fellows, and that of these 289 were resident abroad, distributed as follows :—

Europe	2
* Asia	85
Africa	53
America and West Indies.....	46
Australia	66
New Zealand.....	37

* Including 52 in Indian Medical Service.

In order that Fellows residing in such distant parts as Australia and New Zealand might be enabled to vote, it would probably be unsafe to allow less than 90 days for the transmission and return of the voting-paper, and this would involve nominations of candidates being completed not less than 100 days before the date of the election, so as to give time for the papers to be printed and prepared for circulation.

The Committee has referred to the relevant clauses in the Charters and Bye-Laws, viz.: Section 15 of the Charter of 1843, Section 8 of the Charter of 1852, Sections 2-6 of the Charter of 1888, and Section IV. of the Bye-Laws, and has consulted the Solicitor of the College upon the legal points involved.

The Committee is advised that the provision in Section 15 of the Charter of 1843 against voting by proxy has not been repealed by the later Charters, but that the Charters do not impose any legal objection to the alteration of Section IV. of the Bye-Laws, so as to provide for an extension of the time for giving notice of the election and for the nomination of candidates.

It has been pointed out that Section 8 of the Charter of 1852 provides that all vacancies in the Council shall be filled up on the first Thursday in July in every year, or within one month afterwards, except in the contingency of the number of the Council falling below eighteen, and that a Bye-Law making a long interval between the date for nominations and the date of the election might render it impossible, upon occasions, to adhere strictly to this provision of the Charter, as it would not be possible to fill up vacancies arising in the interval until July of the following year.

The Committee is, however, advised that no condition as to length of notice is imposed by the Charter, and that, subject to the approval of the Secretary of State, a Bye-Law to extend the time considerably might be made.

The Committee accordingly recommends to the Council that steps be taken to alter Section IV. of the Bye-Laws so as to admit of voting-papers being sent out three months before the date of the election.

ALTERATION IN BYE-LAWS.

Sect. IV.—Election and Admission of Members of Council.

Old Clauses abrogated.

1. The place and time appointed for every Meeting of the Fellows for the Election of Members or a Member of the Council shall be announced in the 'London Gazette,' and in two London daily Newspapers, not less than thirty days and not more than forty before the day of Meeting.

5. Not less than ten days prior to the day fixed for such Meeting, the Secretary shall deliver or send by the post to every Fellow of the College, whose address in the United Kingdom is registered at the College, a voting-paper, in such form as the Council of the College may from time to time direct.

New Clauses.

1. The place and time appointed for every Meeting of the Fellows for the Election of Members or a Member of the Council shall be announced in the 'London Gazette,' and in two London daily Newspapers, not less than one hundred and ten days and not more than one hundred and twenty before the day of Meeting.

5. Not less than ninety days prior to the day fixed for such Meeting, the Secretary shall deliver or send by the post to every Fellow of the College, whose address is registered at the College, a voting-paper, in such form as the Council of the College may from time to time direct.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR NEXT ELECTION.

The new Bye-Laws have been approved by the Crown and signed by the Secretary of State for Home Affairs, the Lord Chancellor, and the Lord Chief Justice. In accordance with these Bye-Laws the date of the next Election of Members of the Council, viz. the 4th July 1918, will be announced by advertisement and by circular on the 8th March 1918, the nomination of candidates for seats in the Council must be completed by the 18th March 1918, and voting-papers will be issued on the 2nd April 1918.

Fellows of the College, especially those residing out of the United Kingdom, if desirous of voting at the Election, should take care that their correct addresses are registered at the College.

II. Prevention and Treatment of Venereal Diseases.

This question has again been under the consideration of the Council, and at a meeting in January the following resolution was adopted:—

That, in the opinion of the Council, the treatment of venereal diseases and the advertisement of remedies for such a purpose by unqualified persons should be prohibited and made a punishable offence, and that the recommendations of the Select Committee of the House of Commons on Patent Medicines, which have now been endorsed by the Royal Commission on Venereal Diseases, should forthwith be adopted and embodied in the proposed legislative measures.

By desire of the Council the President communicated the terms of this resolution to the President of the Local Government Board, from whom a letter was subsequently received stating that the suggestions made by the Council of the Royal College of Surgeons of England on the subject of the treatment and prevention of venereal diseases would receive his careful and sympathetic consideration.

III. Committee of Reference.

Towards the end of the year 1916 the Committee of Reference was occupied in considering recommendations for the treatment of the Dischargeable Disabled Soldier, and early in November forwarded to H.M. Government a Report on this subject.

In December the Committee of Reference, together with the Central Medical War Committee, adopted a Report on the treatment of the Discharged Disabled Soldier, and forwarded a joint Report on the subject to H.M. Government.

In December the Committee of Reference adopted the following resolution :—

“ That the Committee of the Royal Colleges of Physicians and of Surgeons are of opinion that it is desirable to join with the Central Medical War Committee in a deputation to the Director of National Service to urge upon him that the mobilisation of the medical profession should be organised under his direction by a representative body selected from that profession.”

A joint statement of the Committee of Reference and the Central Medical War Committee was sent to Mr. Neville Chamberlain in January.

A conference took place in March on the subject of the mobilisation of the profession, but no effect has been given to the recommendations of the Committees.

The decisions of the Government with regard to National Service and the urgent demands of the Army for the services of civilian practitioners have been the occasion of much anxious thought to the Committee of Reference.

The heavy casualties among officers in the Army Medical Service and the ever growing needs of the Army for medical relief have rendered it increasingly difficult to keep up the supply of doctors for the Army without jeopardising the interests of the civil community.

The Committee of Reference, together with the Central Medical War Committee, has been constantly engaged in endeavouring to solve the difficulties of this problem, and at the same time to secure that the services of those retained in civil work shall be used to the best advantage.

Recently the chief work of the Committee has been to hear appeals of medical men called up for Military Service, and to advise regarding the conflicting interests of the Army and Civil community in such cases.

During the year ending July 1917 the Committee has held 52 meetings, and the following is a record of the attendance of the representatives of the College of Surgeons on the Committee:—

	Meetings attended.
The President, Sir W. Watson Cheyne, Bt.	19
Sir Rickman J. Godlee, Bt.	48
Mr. William F. Haslam (retired after 22nd meeting)	12
Mr. D'Arey Power	49
Mr. Charles Ryall	50
Mr. F. F. Burghard, C.B. (elected after 25th meeting)	27

IV. Pensions Tribunal.

On the nomination of the President, Mr. Bilton Pollard has been appointed to serve on the Tribunal set up by the Ministry of Pensions for the consideration of appeals by discharged disabled soldiers and sailors with reference to the grant of gratuities in place of pensions.

V. Suspension of Systematic Courses of Lectures.

At a meeting of the Committee of Reference in April the following resolution was adopted:—

“That in consequence of (1) the depletion of the staffs of the hospitals and medical schools; (2) the reduction in the number of students; (3) the amount of time necessarily devoted by students in their fourth and fifth years to practical clinical work owing to the shortage of resident medical officers—the Royal Colleges of Physicians and Surgeons be requested to consider the desirability of suspending, during the period of the war, the regulations that students should attend systematic courses of lectures."

It was subsequently determined, upon the recommendation of the Committee of Management, not to enforce for the present paragraph XIV. clause 2 (a) and (b), and paragraph XXI. clause 1 (a) to (g), Section II. of the Regulations of the Examining Board in England, which require attendance on systematic courses of lectures.

The courses of lectures referred to are those on Anatomy, Physiology, Medicine, Surgery, Midwifery Pathology, Pharmacology and Therapeutics, Forensic Medicine including Insanity, and Public Health.

VI. Annual Meeting of Fellows and Members.

At the meeting of the Council on December 14th the President reported that he had attended in the theatre of the College at 3 o'clock P.M. on Thursday, the 16th of November, the day and hour appointed for the Annual Meeting of Fellows and Members, and that, the required quorum of 30 not being present, he had declared, after the expiration of 15 minutes, that the meeting could not be held.

The President also reported that he had been asked whether a further attempt to hold the meeting would be made, and pointed out that, unless notice of a proposal to that effect were now given, the question would not arise, inasmuch as Section XXV. of the Regulations of the Council merely provides that a meeting shall be summoned annually and shall not be held unless the required quorum is obtained, and does not impose any obligation upon the Council to hold a meeting in the event of the condition regarding a quorum not being fulfilled.

The President further stated that he had been asked to request the Council to take into consideration the question of reducing during the War the number required for a quorum.

No proposal that a further summons for a meeting should be issued or that the number required for a quorum should be reduced was moved or suggested.

VII. Central Midwives Board.

The following Report on the proceedings of the Central Midwives Board during the year 1916 has been received from Mr. C. H. Golding-Bird :—

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN,—

Whilst the Midwives Bill of 1910 has made no further advance, that for Scotland has now a place on the Statute Book and is in full work. The Scottish Act is largely on the lines of our Bill above referred to, the past experience of the English Board being largely laid under contribution, whilst the Scottish Rules are based entirely on those of the English Board. A mutual reciprocity between the two Boards has unfortunately not been provided for; whilst the Scottish Board is able to offer reciprocity to many other parts of the British Dominions, England itself excluded.

The only attempt at reciprocity is in the matter of the training and examining of candidates, as the following correspondence shows:—

MEDICAL COUNCIL OFFICE,
October 17, 1916.

MY DEAR SIR FRANCIS,

I understand that a certain number of practitioners and institutions in Scotland are recognized by the Central Midwives Board for the training of candidates for the Midwives' Certificate in England. The Scottish Board is also engaged in recognitions of the same kind, with a view to the training of candidates for the Midwives' Certificate in Scotland. Might I ask whether any steps are being taken to coordinate the action of the two Boards in this respect?

I ask, because I understand that there may be practitioners in Scotland recognized by your Board, to whom the Scottish Board, on the information before it, has refused recognition. The result might be that women trained in Scotland, but not eligible for Scottish Certificates, might obtain Certificates in England and then claim enrolment in Scotland. You would, I am sure, agree that this is undesirable.

I am,

Yours very truly,
DONALD MACALISTER.

Caxton House, Westminster,
October 23rd, 1916.

MY DEAR SIR DONALD,

I enclose a list of all the Institutions and Teachers in Scotland who have been recognized by the Central Midwives Board (England).

You will see that there are on the list four maternity hospitals and three poor-law hospitals, in one of which the hospital itself is not approved but the medical officer is. There are four other institutions at which midwives may be trained, and only two unattached lecturers, both at Edinburgh.

During 1915 Dr. Stewart sent up two candidates and Dr. Thatcher one. The three poor-law hospitals sent up six between them.

It may be stated that nine-tenths or more of the Scottish-trained 1917.

candidates who enter for our Examination come from the Maternity Hospital at Edinburgh, Glasgow, or Dundee.

It was always the intention of my Board that Scottish Institutions and Teachers should be referred for approval to the Scottish Board; and I propose that notice shall be given to all these places that after March 31 next we shall not recognize them as qualified to train for our Examination, but in case of any of their candidates wishing to enter for the English Examination it must be done through the Scottish Board. Will you let me know whether this meets your point?

Yours very truly,

F. H. CHAMPNEYS.

The reply to this was in the affirmative.

The Scottish Act also provides what we lack in England, and that is the power to prevent the delegation of the authority over Midwives to District Councils—a matter to which I refer later on; but when the English Bill passes, these and other anomalies will disappear.

The following Statistics for the year 1916 compare very favourably with those for 1915. The Penal cases are slightly reduced in number, and this doubtless will continue as the older and less efficient bona fide women are weeded out.

“Covering” by medical men, intentionally or otherwise, still continues, and three cases have this year been before the Board: they were all referred to the General Medical Council, with two of whom that body has already dealt. Covering, however, has been charged against certain midwives who in one way or another have employed unqualified substitutes. In one instance an unauthorized person was obtained to sign a certificate; in another, an unqualified woman was employed as an assistant.

In regard to the latter offence, questions were asked in December by the Medical Officer of Health for West Hartlepool, which, with the reply of the Board, I shall quote in extenso from our Minutes:—

“Letters were read from the Medical Officer of Health of West Hartlepool, asking the advice of the Board on the following points:—

“(1) The extent, if any, of the liability of a midwife where she employs an uncertified woman to attend to her patients before the confinement, and in particular whether such employment constitutes an infringement of Section 1 (4) of the Midwives Act, 1902, which prohibits the employment of an uncertified substitute.

“(2) Whether when a doctor has been engaged beforehand for a confinement, and the patient calls in an uncertified woman when the child is about to be born, the doctor not being present at the birth nor until some hours afterwards, such action constitutes an offence against Section 1 (2) of the Midwives Act, 1902.

“RESOLVED, that the Medical Officer of Health of West Hartlepool be informed that the Board is of opinion that—

“(1) Where a midwife has been engaged to attend a confinement, any employment by her of an uncertified woman to attend on the patient must be,

(a) as a monthly nurse only and not as a midwife;

(b) in addition to and not in substitution for all obligations to attend on the patient entailed on her by the Rules of the Board and in particular by Rule E 1.

“(2) Whether an incident of this nature involves an illegal act or not depends upon the bona fides of the transaction. The habitual occurrence of the incident in the case of any one woman would affect the judgment of the Board in dealing with the particular case.

“The Board further points out that the General Medical Council has lately dealt with cases of alleged ‘covering’ of handy women by doctors.”

Cases of falsification of Certificates of various kinds still occur; it is, however, satisfactory to record that during the year four women have purged themselves of the offence, according to the requirements of the Board, and have been accepted as Candidates for Examination.

The following extract from the February Minutes, on the important subject of the liability to inspection of Matrons of Workhouses who hold the Board's Certificate and practise Midwifery in the institutions over which they preside, speaks for itself:—

“A letter was read from the Local Government Board asking the view of the Board as to the liability of the Matron of the Warminster Workhouse to inspection, by the Local Supervising Authority under the Midwives Act, 1902.

“Resolved:—

(a) That the Board approves the letter drafted by the Chairman pointing out that Matrons of all Workhouses and Poor Law Infirmarys are not exempted from inspection, but only those exercising their calling under the supervision of a duly appointed medical officer, and that in the case of the Warminster Workhouse this supervision does not appear to be exercised.

(b) That the letter be sent to the Local Government Board.”

In reply to a question put to it by the Carnarvonshire County Council, the Board expressed its oft-repeated opinion that it was the duty of Local Supervising Authorities not only to see that Midwives could, and did take the pulse and temperature efficiently, but also that it considered it to be “the duty of the Local Supervising Authority to instruct bonâ fide or other midwives who appear to be deficient in necessary knowledge.”

In June “a letter was read from the Board of Education asking whether the Central Midwives Board would be prepared to co-operate with the Board of Education in approaching the Lords Commissioners of H.M. Treasury with a view to the provision of the funds necessary for promoting the improvement of the training of midwives.

“RESOLVED, that the Board of Education be informed that the Central Midwives Board will be pleased to co-operate in approaching the Lords Commissioners of H.M. Treasury.”

The matter referred to in the above extract from our Minutes, has to the present time not reached beyond the holding of conferences and the drawing up of a draft of proposals, towards bringing about this most desirable step in the right direction.

Although in 1915, as will be seen in my Report for that year, the Central Midwives Board, by Resolution, registered its disapproval of the delegation of the powers of County Councils in regard to the supervision of midwives, to District Councils, the Board received with regret a notice from the Essex County Council, in January, that it had determined to delegate the administration of the Midwives Act, within the County, to any Borough with a population of 20,000, presenting a Maternity and Infant Welfare Scheme approved by the County Council. After a further communication from the Medical Officer of the County, the Board returned the following reply :—

“That, while regretting the decision of the Essex County Council to delegate any of its powers, the Board is glad to observe that the County Council has reserved to itself the control of matters involving the disciplinary action of the Central Midwives Board.”

The possibility of Health Visitors' visits to a patient during the puerperium interfering with the duties of the midwife, is referred to in my last report. The subject has again held the attention of the Board in consequence of a communication from the Local Government Board, in May, relative to visits of officials concerned in Maternity and Child Welfare Work, during the period of a midwife's attendance. The reply of the Central Midwives Board was as follows :—

“That the Local Government Board be informed that the Central Midwives Board is of opinion that, in the terms of their resolution of December 16, 1915, ‘generally speaking, the Inspector of Midwives is the only person who ought to visit the house of a lying-in patient during the attendance of the midwife, and that any visit paid to a lying-in woman by any other person than the doctor or midwife must be made by the express permission of the patient,’ and that the words ‘generally speaking’ should be taken to mean that a doctor called in on the advice of a midwife, in accordance with the Rules of the Central Midwives Board, is the proper person to supervise the care of the infant during the attendance of the midwife. In cases in which the midwife is incompetent, the Inspector of Midwives will necessarily exercise supervision.”

Later in the year a further communication was received, on this subject, from the Local Government Board, the nature of which will be seen by the following reply sent by the Central Midwives Board :—

“That the Local Government Board be thanked for their communication, and be informed that the Board trusts that the Medical Officers of Health, to whom the discretion has been committed, will exercise that discretion with great care.”

In March the quinquennial revision of the Rules of the Board was completed, and in June the Order in Council was received authorizing their use for five years from July 1st, 1916. Various important modifications have been introduced, and especially the increase of the time of training midwives is extended from three to six months; but in certain instances, as mentioned in my last report, the period may be four months. An inquiry on this matter by the Medical Officer of Health for Liverpool elicited the important reply of the Board, that in the case of nurses claiming the four months' period, the training in midwifery might be taken during, and as part of the three years' general training in nursing. Three training institutions in India (in Bombay and Poona) asked the same question, and received the same reply. In the case of women who were training in nursing in Special Hospitals, the Board agreed to allow such training in Special Hospitals for Women, of not less than 50 beds, to count towards the abatement of the two months' midwifery training out of the six in general hospitals.

The midwife is also now required to make herself more fully acquainted with the patient's state prior to confinement, with the view of antenatal treatment, when requisite. Greater stress, too, is laid upon the immediate reporting of anything wrong with the infant's eyes; and there are other numerous modifications of the old rules, not only for the greater benefit of the mother and child, but also for the greater protection of the midwife herself against possible charges of malpraxis. With the new rules will also be found practical leaflets for the information of the midwife on the subject of Venereal Disease.

The Board received early in the year the copy of a Resolution passed by the Council of the Society of Medical Officers of Health, "calling attention to the position of Local Supervising Authorities in connection with the Administration of the Midwives Act of 1902." Briefly stated, the Resolution objected:—

(1) That the Local Supervising Authorities possessed practically no disciplinary powers over the midwives.

(2) That the Local Supervising Authorities, whilst, in effect, the prosecutors in penal cases, since they reported contraventions of the Rules, and submitted sworn testimony, have no statutory right to be present at the hearing of a charge, nor to cross-examine witnesses.

(3) That in a recent case a Local Supervising Authority had been reproved by the Board for carrying out their clearly defined duties.

To the above, the Board, by Resolution, made the following reply:—

"(1) This resolution deals with a matter affecting the Midwives Act and not the Rules of the Board.

"(2) The Local Supervising Authority has no statutory right to be represented at the hearing; but the Board always invites the appearance of one or more representatives of the Authority, as is well-known to those Authorities who are in the habit of sending cases to be dealt with by the Board after they have found a prima facie case to be established, as provided by section 8 (2) of the Midwives Act; and the presence of a representative of the Authority, who is willing to assist the Board, is of great value in enabling the Board to arrive at a decision.

"The Board has no power of administering an oath, and it is obvious that unless the whole of the conduct of the case is undertaken by the Local Supervising Authority, their representatives cannot be allowed to cross-examine. The Board is of opinion that the delegation of the right of prosecution to the Local Supervising Authority, presumably to be locally undertaken, would lead to serious divergence in the standard of dealing with such cases, and would greatly interfere with the proper administration of the Act.

"The Board learns from the representative of the County Councils Association on the Board, that the suggestion of the Society of Medical Officers of Health has been before them, and that they are not in favour of any such change of procedure as is indicated.

"(3) This resolution refers to a case in which the Board considered that the Local Supervising Authority had sent up a midwife for trial on insufficient grounds. The 'reproof' alluded to consisted in the Board stating that the Authority might have dealt with the case locally. This course is frequently adopted by the Authorities who have the greatest experience in the local administration of the Act. Advice, caution or censure have been found of much value in bringing about improved methods of practice by midwives who err from ignorance rather than from deliberation."

It only remains for me to add that the offices of the Board are now no longer in Caxton House, but in Queen Anne's Gate Buildings, Westminster, S.W., to which premises they removed at the end of the year; and also to express my obligation to the President and Council of the College for having for so many years entrusted me with their interests on the Central Midwives Board.

I have the honour to remain,

Your obedient servant,

C. H. GOLDING-BIRD.

Mr. Golding-Bird having decided not to offer himself for re-election. Dr. Walter Spencer Anderson Griffith, F.R.C.P., F.R.C.S., has been appointed the representative of the College upon the Board for the term of one year from the 31st March 1917.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the Council on Mr. Golding-Bird's retirement :—

That the Council desire to place on record their high appreciation of Mr. Golding-Bird's services as the Representative of the College on the Central Midwives Board, and that the grateful thanks of the Council be conveyed to him for the very efficient manner in which he has fulfilled the duties associated with that office during the last eight years.

VIII. The Practice of Dentistry.

At the meeting of the Council on the 26th July 1917 attention was called to the appointment by the Lord President of the Privy Council of a Departmental Committee to investigate the extent and gravity of the evils connected with the practice of dentistry and dental surgery by persons not qualified under the Dentists Act, and to consider and report upon :—

1. The causes of the present inadequate supply of qualified dentists and dental surgeons.

2. The expediency of legislation prohibiting in the United Kingdom the practice of dentistry and dental surgery by unqualified persons ; and, in the event of such legislation being deemed expedient, the conditions under which certain classes of unqualified persons at present engaged in the practice of dentistry might be permitted to continue in practice by the institution of a special roll for the purpose.

3. The practicability, without impairing the existing guarantees for the efficient practice of dentistry, of (a) modifying the course of study and examination prescribed for dental qualifications ; (b) reducing the time occupied ; (c) diminishing the cost of training dental students.

In view of the possibility that the College might be called upon to give evidence before the Departmental Committee, a Committee of the Council has been appointed to consider the nature of the evidence which might be given, and has been given power to consult the Board of Examiners in Dental Surgery and the Deans of the Dental Schools.

IX. Removal of Fellow.

Mr. Alfred Banks, who obtained the Diploma of Fellow in 1893 and the Diploma of Member in 1891, has been removed from being a Fellow and Member of the College under Clause 2, Section XVI. of the Bye-Laws, his name having been previously erased from the Medical Register by order of the General Medical Council upon the grounds stated in the following charge:—

“That being a registered medical practitioner you abused your position by committing adultery with a patient, namely Mrs. A M C L, a married woman, whom you had been and were attending professionally.

“And that in relation thereto you have been guilty of infamous conduct in a professional respect.”

The Committee recommends—

7. The Scholar may be called upon to give one or more Lectures upon the subject of his research, either during or on the completion of the tenure of his Scholarship.

8. The results of his research, whether in the form of Lectures or otherwise, shall not be published without the consent of the Executive Committee.

V. That all expenses incidental to the administration of the Trust be paid out of the funds of the Trust.

XIII. Finance.

INCOME.

The gross income of the College, exclusive of the income from Trust Funds, amounts to £21,062, and is £1,958 less than in the previous year.

The examination and diploma fees for the Membership, though less by £228 than in the previous year, are well up to the average, while the fees for the Diploma in Public Health, though still much below the average, are £70 higher than in the previous year.

The fees for the Fellowship continue to fall, and this year there is a further decrease of £230.

As anticipated, the gross receipts in the form of fees for the Licence in Dental Surgery are considerably less, a decrease of £935 being shown under this head.

The gross rents from House Property amount, as in the previous year, to £1.160, but the sum actually received, after deduction of Property Tax, amounted to £895 compared with £1,071 13s. 4d.

The receipts from investments included under General Funds and the Erasmus Wilson Bequest are £600 less, as shown in the printed statement of accounts, but the real decrease amounts to £757, as a sum not yet paid for Income Tax on dividends not taxed by deduction must be taken into account.

EXPENDITURE.

The total expenditure under the Revenue Account amounts to £17,781, and only differs by £4 from the amount expended in the previous year.

The expenditure of the Conjoint Examining Board apportioned to this College shows a decrease of £151, owing to the amount paid in examiners' fees being less.

The cost of the Fellowship Examinations is £124 less, and that of the Examinations for the Licence in Dental Surgery £209 less than in the previous year.

The general working expenses of the College amount to £5,981, and are £876 higher than in the previous year. This increase is mainly due to the increased expenditure under the two heads of "Repairs," and "Rates, Taxes, and Insurance." The expenditure on Repairs, Painting, and Cleaning amounts to £509, an increase of £359, and is heavy owing to the inclusion of an exceptional account for structural repairs to the portico in addition to a considerable one for the painting of the roof-lights, a periodical outlay which happened to fall within the year. The expenditure for Rates, Taxes, and Insurance comes to £2,361. Here there is an increase of £507, almost entirely due to increased Income Tax on property let and occupied, additional Corporation Duty, and Income Tax on dividends not taxed by deduction. There is a saving of £65 under the head of Fuel and Light, owing to the smaller consumption of coal brought about by the closing of the Museum.

The special expenses of the Museum are £266 less, and those of the Library £249 less than in the previous year.

The extraordinary expenditure amounts to £748, an increase of £120. With the exception of £40, it consists of expenditure in connexion with the War. The largest item is one of £555 3s. for allowances to servants on service in the Army. Of this amount one half has been actually paid to the servants or their relatives, and one half has been retained for payment to them on their return to the service of the College, the whole amount being debited to the expenditure of the year.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The balance on the Revenue Account amounts to £3,280, and is less by £1,954 than the balance in the previous year. There is a loss in net revenue from the Dental Examinations of £726 and of £105 from the Fellowship Examinations. It is, however, to increased taxation that the decrease in revenue is mainly due.

LIABILITIES.

On the 24th of June, 1917, the amount of the deferred allowances payable to servants of the College now in the Army on their return to the service of the College was £496 9s. 6d. As it may be hoped that it will be possible to pay these allowances, as they fall due, out of current income, it has not been thought necessary to place them in a special fund.

Some of the dividends included in the Revenue Account have this year been paid without deduction of Income Tax. The amount of the Tax which will be payable some time during the ensuing year, viz., £157 3s. 8d., has been charged under Rates, Taxes, and Insurance on the other side of the Revenue Account, and appears as a liability on the Balance-Sheet.

Another liability, which has not previously appeared on the Balance-Sheet, is a sum of £14,250, the amount of the loan from the Bankers for the purchase of £15,000 5 per cent. War Stock. Since the date of the Balance-Sheet £1,700 of this loan has been repaid. On the 1st June, 1917, the balance of the interest on the £15,000 remaining in the hands of the Treasurers, after payment of interest to the Bankers for their loan, amounted to £10 13s. 2d., or, with allowance for Income Tax, a net profit to date of £7 19s. 11d. On the 10th of May last the Treasurers were given authority by the Council to sell a sum not exceeding £10,000 out of the £15,000 Stock bought with the loan, but so far they have not thought it desirable to effect a sale of any portion of the stock.

XIV. Issue of Diplomas.

The following is a record of the number of Diplomas issued during the period with which this Report deals, viz. :—

Qualification.	Number of Diplomas issued.
Membership.....	375 (including 37 women)
Fellowship	8 (including 1 by election)
Licence in Dental Surgery ..	67 (including 3 women)
*Diploma in Public Health ..	11 (including 3 women)

* Granted jointly with the Royal College of Physicians.

THE MUSEUM.

THE Hunterian Collection, which forms the basis, and still a large proportion, of the contents of the present Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, was originally arranged in a building which its Founder, John Hunter, erected for it in 1784, behind his house in Leicester Square.

John Hunter died October 16th, 1793, aged 65. By his will he directed the Museum to be offered in the first instance to the British Government, on such terms as might be considered reasonable, and in case of refusal to be sold in one lot, either to some foreign state, or as his executors might think proper.

In the year 1799 Parliament voted the sum of £15,000 for the Museum, and an offer of it being made to the Corporation of Surgeons, it was accepted on the terms proposed by Government*.

In 1806 the sum of £15,000 was voted by Parliament in aid of the erection of an edifice for the display and arrangement of the Hunterian Collection; a second grant of £12,500 was subsequently voted, and upwards of £21,000 having been supplied from the funds of the College, the building was completed in Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, in which the Museum was opened for the inspection of visitors in the year 1813.

In consequence of the large number of additions, this building became too small for the adequate display and arrangement of its contents; and more space being at the same time required for the rapidly increasing Library, the greater portion of the present building was erected, wholly at the expense of the College, in 1835, at

* The following are the Terms and Conditions on which the Hunterian Collection, purchased by Parliament, was delivered to the late Corporation of Surgeons; which Corporation having become dissolved, the Members thereof were re-incorporated by Charter, dated the 22nd day of March, 1800, under the Title of The Royal College of Surgeons in London:—

1st. The Collection shall be open Four Hours in the Forenoon of two days every week for Inspection and Consultation of the Fellows of the College of Physicians, the Members of the Company of Surgeons and Persons properly introduced by them; a Catalogue of the Preparations, and a proper Person to explain it, being at those times always in the Room.

† 2nd. That one Course of Lectures, not less than twenty-four in number, on Comparative Anatomy and other subjects, illustrated by the preparations, shall be given every year by some Member of the Company.

3rd. That the Preparations shall be kept in a state of Preservation, and the Collection in as perfect a state as possible, at the Expense of the Corporation of Surgeons, subject to the annual Inspection and Superintendence of the Trustees.

4th. That there shall be a Board of Trustees, to consist of sixteen (increased to seventeen by the Lords of the Treasury in 1836) Members, by virtue of their Public Offices, and of fourteen others, to be appointed, in the first instance, by the Lords of the Treasury, and afterwards to be elected, as Vacancies may happen, by a Majority of the remaining Trustees.

5th. That the Museum shall always be open for the Inspection of all or any of the said Trustees, who are to take care that the Corporation of Surgeons perform their Engagements respecting the said Collection. That a day be appointed for the annual Inspection of the Museum, by the Trustees acting collectively as a Board; and that they are also to have quarterly Meetings, for the transacting of any Business relative to the Museum, and for the filling up of such Vacancies as may happen in the number of the Trustees; and that the Corporation of Surgeons shall engage some person to officiate as Secretary to the Board upon such occasions, and to issue previous Notice to the Members, in which he is to state particularly whether any Vacancies are to be filled up by new Elections.

† This Clause was altered by the Lords of the Treasury in 1804, to the following, viz. :—

2nd. That one Course of Lectures, not less than twelve in number, on Comparative Anatomy and other subjects, illustrated by preparations from the Hunterian Collection and the other contents of the Museum, shall be given every year by Fellows or Members of the College.

a cost of about £40,000, and the Hunterian and Collegiate Collections were re-arranged in what are now termed Rooms Nos. III. and IV., which were opened for the inspection of visitors in 1836.

Further enlargement of the building having become necessary by the continued increase of the Collection, the College, in 1847, purchased the extensive premises of Mr. Alderman Copeland, in Portugal Street, for the sum of £16,000, and in 1852 proceeded to the erection of Room No. V., at the expense of £25,000, Parliament granting £15,000 in aid thereof. The rearrangement of the specimens was completed, and the additional portion of the building opened to visitors in 1855. The Collection still continuing to increase and more space having again become necessary, the College in 1888 determined to erect, at a cost of £19,000, two new Museums on the western side of the old structure. These buildings, called Rooms Nos. I. and II., were completed in 1891. Besides giving greater accommodation for the Collection in general they have also provided space for the display of photographs and drawings illustrating Diseases.

The Hunterian Collection was estimated to consist of 13,682 specimens, distributed under the following heads :—

Physiological Department, or Normal Structures.

Physiological preparations in spirit	3745
Osteological preparations	965
Dry do.	617
Zoological do.	1968
Fossils :—
Vertebrate	1215
Invertebrate	2202
Plants	292

Pathological Department, or Abnormal Structures.

Preparations in spirit	1084
Dry preparations (including bones)	625
Calculi and concretions	536
Monsters and Malformations	218
Microscopic preparations	215

Of the additions by which the size and value of the Collection have been so materially increased since it came into the possession of the College, very many have been presented by Fellows and Members of the College, and other persons interested in scientific pursuits. Among the largest contributions from this source have been the Collection, consisting of 847 specimens, presented in 1811 by Sir William Blizard; a valuable series of Pathological specimens presented in 1851 by Sir Stephen L. Hammick; and a Collection, presented in 1905 by Lt.-Colonel Sir Richard Havelock Charles, I.M.S., K.C.V.O., consisting of 248 skulls, and other specimens, representative of many of the Castes and Tribes of India. At the same time the Council of the College have availed themselves of various opportunities as they have occurred to purchase specimens of interest, especially at the dispersion of private anatomical and pathological museums, as that of Sir A. Lever in 1806, of Mr. Joshua Brookes in 1828, of Mr. Heaviside in 1829, Mr. Langstaff in 1835, Mr. South in the same year, Mr. Howship and Mr. Taunton in 1841, Mr. Liston in 1842, Mr. Walker in 1843, and, deserving of especial mention on account of the great number and value of the specimens acquired, those of Sir Astley Cooper in 1843 and Dr. Barnard Davis in 1880.

The Histological Collection, of which the 215 Hunterian specimens (prepared by Hewson) constitute the nucleus, was chiefly formed by the late Professor Quckett, with considerable additions by purchase from Dr. Tweedy J. Todd, Mr. Nasmyth, and Professor Lenhossek. It now contains upwards of 12,000 specimens, all arranged and catalogued so as to be readily available for reference.

In 1909 the Collection of the Odontological Section of the Royal Society of Medicine, consisting of about 5000 specimens, was transferred to the College under a Deed of Trust, and is now arranged with the other odontological specimens belonging to the College in a room specially prepared for its reception under Room II. of the Museum.

The superintendence of the Museum is confided by the Council of the College to a Committee of its Members, which Committee has held four meetings during the past year.

A summary of the progress made in the preservation, arrangement, and augmentation of the Collection will be found in the following Report.

CONSERVATOR'S REPORT.

Protection of the Contents of the Museum.—In the Annual Reports of 1915 and of 1916 accounts have been given of the measures taken to safeguard the contents of the Museum during war-time. These measures have not in any way been relaxed, although, thanks to the efficiency of our aerial defence, the danger from Zeppelins is now decidedly diminished. During September and October 1916 four enemy air-ships, seeking to invade London, were totally destroyed. The present danger is from enemy aeroplanes, rather than Zeppelins. It is not probable that it will be possible to restore preparations to their proper places in the Museum until the conclusion of peace. It should be understood, however, that, although the Museum is technically closed to visitors, its contents can be made accessible to those who wish to carry on research or to make a study of a particular series of specimens or preparations. During the past year this privilege has been freely sought and given.

War Office Collection.—During the past three years the staff of the Museum—a much diminished staff—has become more and more occupied with the “War Office Collection.” At the present time the work connected with that important collection—which is “national” in the true sense of the word—monopolizes the time and energy of the entire Museum staff. The circumstances under which the Council of the College undertook, at the request of the Director-General of the Army Medical Service, to collect, preserve, and catalogue specimens illustrating the nature of the wounds, injuries, and diseases of warfare have been detailed in the reports of the two preceding years. At first, specimens came very slowly: at the date of the last Annual Report (June 1916) only 500 had been received. In the present year more than twice that number have been added; there are over 1500 specimens now in the collection. With the increase in numbers came also an improvement in the quality of the specimens. That improvement was due to the most efficient service which was established under Lt.-Colonel T. R. Elliott, F.R.S., between the Pathological Laboratories attached to base-hospitals and casualty clearing-stations in France and the Museum of the College. At a later date a similar service was arranged between the pathological departments of military hospitals at home and the Museum by Lt.-Colonel Sir John Bland-Sutton, who has been appointed by the Army Council as its representative in the management of the collection. The majority of the specimens come from hospitals under the administration of the Royal Army Medical Corps, but a number are also received from hospitals staffed by members of the Canadian Army Medical Service and by the Australian Army Medical Service; specimens from the latter sources are specially labelled and will be subsequently placed at the disposal of the Canadian and Australian Governments. It is also understood that specimens sent from military hospitals at home, and which, as it may subsequently prove, are not required for the "central" or "national" collection, will be returned to these hospitals should such a request be made. The aim which all concerned keep constantly before them is that the Medical History Committee will have at its disposal an abundance of suitable material on which it may base its records of the war. The specimens themselves will also serve as permanent records, and should prove instructive to the present as well as to future generations of medical men.

When, in May 1915, the Council of the College undertook to "preserve, classify, and register all specimens forwarded from military hospitals," there was no intention on the part of those in authority to do more than safeguard the collection for investigation and possibly for exhibition when the end of the war came. Indeed, the College had neither the labour nor the means of doing more than it originally undertook to do. Towards the close of last year (1916) it became apparent to all who realized the educative value which such a collection possessed for Army Medical Officers, that its exhibition could not await the end of the war. Its historical value would remain unimpaired, but its present educative value would be lost. It was realized that it should be made available for study as soon as was possible. In July 1916 the French Army Medical Staff opened a Museum in Paris (at the Val de Grâce) for the exhibition of specimens of every kind connected with Military Surgery and Hygiene. The Director-General of Medical Services in France asked Lt.-Colonel T. R. Elliott to visit and report on the Val-de-Grâce Museum. A favourable report was returned: it was found that the Museum was enthusiastically supported and visited by officers belonging to all branches of the Medical Staff of the French Army; it served as a centre for the dissemination of the best available knowledge.

The project of an immediate exhibition of Military specimens was then taken up by the chiefs of the Medical Department of the Army at home and abroad. In December 1916 the Army Council requested the Council of the College to suggest the best means "for placing on exhibition the collection of War Specimens now assembled in the Store-rooms of the Museum." The Council of the College undertook to do the best it could. At its request, Mr. Shattock, assisted by Mr. Cecil Beadles, undertook the selection and preparation of specimens for exhibition. In the selection of specimens of a surgical nature they were assisted by Capt. Raymond Johnson, R.A.M.C. A nucleus for the exhibition was at once assembled in the Hall of the Museum by Mr. Shattock. In this nucleus were assembled specimens which were chiefly derived from the Museums of the College and of St. Thomas's Hospital Medical School, illustrating the wounds of former wars—Peninsular, Crimean, Franco-Prussian, and South-African. A section illustrating the lesions of the present war was also included. Drawings and photographs were added. To this modern section additions are being constantly made as the labours of Mr. Shattock and Mr. Beadles progress. In view of the onerous duties which thus fell on Mr. Beadles, and of the success with which he applied himself to them, a financial grant was made to him by the Medical Research Committee; while the Council of the College increased his salary and altered the status of his post from that of Pathological Assistant to that of Assistant Pathological Curator.

The aim of those who are responsible for the management of the War Office Collection is to have a complete and extensive series of specimens ready for exhibition in the first week of October 1917. Its first and chief end is to meet the needs of the Medical Officers of the Army. The College can, at the present time, devote three of the largest rooms in the Museum for its proper display. Although in its scope it may be less wide than the collection now shown at the Val-de-Grâce, yet it will be wide enough to include not only actual specimens of wounds of all parts of the body, and of the diseases and consequences of military wounds, but will also embrace samples of the missiles causing wounds, the various means of treatment adopted by military surgeons, and the results obtained so far as such results can be accurately represented by drawings, photographs, casts, and models. A valuable series of accurate pathological drawings is being collected from France, where Mr. A. K. Maxwell has been placed by the War Office and the Medical Research Committee for this special purpose. It is intended that every special department of surgery should be represented—orthopædic surgery, plastic surgery, the treatment of face, mouth, and jaw deformities, of limb deformities, the fashioning of stumps, and the supply of artificial limbs. A special radiographic section is particularly desirable—one which will include radiograms of wounds in all parts of the body and at all stages of healing, as well as a series of radiograms showing the normal uninjured condition of all regions of the body, from all points of view. There can be no doubt that the material for such an extensive collection is already in existence, and it would be a grave mistake—a national misfortune—if steps are not taken now to gather into a whole what is at present scattered at various hospitals and institutions.

So far as means and material are concerned, the realization of such a central or national exhibition offers no difficulty; the heads of the Medical Departments of the Army have given everything that has been asked for the preservation and mounting of specimens, but in the matter of labour they have been unable to give any help. There is only the depleted staff of the Museum to undertake a work which is very much greater than falls to the full staff in peace time. It is in the lack of skilled museum assistants that the chief difficulty lies, and it is certain that, unless some energetic measures are taken to remedy this deficiency, there will be serious delay in dealing with the large mass of material that has now accumulated.

Research connected with the Museum.—Every specimen added to the Museum has to be investigated; the work, therefore, carried on by the Curators of the various departments of the Museum is essentially that of research. They aim at giving a vivid representation of newly-ascertained, as well as of old-established, facts. The labour which Mr. Shattock and Mr. Beadles is now expending on material derived from the casualty clearing-stations and hospitals abroad and at home are indeed of this nature; they are laying bare, so that anyone can see, the nature and consequences of wounds inflicted under the conditions of modern warfare.

The various catalogues of the Instrument Collection, which are being prepared by Mr. Alban Doran, are records of extensive, accurate, and scholarly research. Only those who have looked into the matter know how prolific has been the inventive faculty of former generations of surgeons and how apt a succeeding generation is to lose sight of the fruits of their ingenuity. In tracing the evolution of instruments and technique in the various branches of surgery, Mr. Doran is performing a most valuable service.

Other lines of research which were being pursued at the outbreak of the war have had to be postponed. Amongst these are the investigations being carried on by the Conservator to elucidate certain morbid conditions of the great bowel. Although this research is not being actively carried on at the present time, material is being accumulated so that when more settled conditions again prevail this work may be resumed. Specimens of the condition known as Megacolon (Hirschsprung's disease) are particularly required: from a preliminary survey of a few examples, the Conservator is convinced that a systematic enquiry into this condition is likely to throw a new light on certain functional disorders of the colon. Another matter which the Conservator regards urgently in need of investigation is the nature and cause of the change which is occurring in the palate and jaws of the modern British population. It probably did not occur to any of those who encouraged the formation of a collection of ancient British Skulls in the Museum, during the Conservatorships of Sir Richard Owen and Sir William Flower, that such a project would serve more than an academical object. It is becoming very apparent that such a collection is going to have a very direct utilitarian purpose; for a comparison of the more ancient with the more modern crania shows that in recent centuries very definite and retrograde changes are occurring in the palate, nose, teeth, and jaws of a large proportion of people. It is the extent, nature, and cause of these changes which require investigation.

Besides routine investigations carried on by members of the staff, the laboratories and Museum have been used by others for the purposes of research. Dr. W. Colin Mackenzie has continued his enquiries into the anatomy and physiology of Australian mammals. At present he is acting as a member of the honorary surgical staff at the Military Orthopædic Hospital, Hammersmith, and finds it advantageous to combine his work at the hospital with a research, bearing on his cases, in the workrooms of the College.

The following have used the Museum for the purposes of research during the past year:—Professor F. G. Parsons, Dr. S. F. Harmer, Professor Karl Pearson, Dr. Mabel Clarke, Miss Laudon, Sir Richard Douglas Powell, Dr. R. H. Paramore, Sir John Bland-Sutton, Mr. Reid Moir, Mr. A. J. Philip, Mr. H. C. Lawlor, Mr. Alfred Cocks, and Major C. Ashburnham.

Report on the Pathological Department by Mr. S. G. Shattock, F.R.S.—Since the last Report, the remounting of the concluding specimens illustrating the Biology of Neoplasms has been carried out.

This portion of the Collection of General Pathology is followed by a section on Foreign bodies: this is now, like the preceding, completely finished; i. e. all the specimens contained in it have been remounted, numbered, and newly described, the descriptions being finally typed for future use in the Museum.

The General Pathology concludes with Gun-shot Injuries.

As noticed in the last Report, all the preparations illustrating the results of Gun-shot which were formerly distributed through the Sections of Special Pathology, have been brought together. Such of these as were not then re-described and had not been remounted, have since been so.

Owing to the depletion of the working staff, the sealing down of nearly all the specimens so far indicated (about 200) has been carried out at St. Thomas's Hospital by the Museum Assistant attached to the Medical School.

The chief part of the work carried out during the year, however, relates to the material received from the seat of war in France.

Early in January 1917, the Council of the College, at the request of the Army Council, took steps to arrange for the selection of specimens from this body of material, and for their mounting and description, as is fully detailed in Prof. Keith's Report.

Out of the first 700 of these (in all about 1500) a selection has now been made, of which 160 have been dissected and mounted. The sealing of these specimens has been chiefly carried out at St. Thomas's, owing, as already noticed, to the depletion of the College Staff; the added expense so incurred, which is comparatively small, is being borne by the War Office.

The specimens so far selected comprise injuries of all the viscera, except the brain; the conditions of Gassed lung and Trench nephritis have also been included. As they have been prepared, a short description and history of each specimen has been drawn up: and these have been printed and placed by them. The specimens have been arranged for exhibition in the Vestibule of the Museum. With the specimens from the present war, there are exhibited also the whole of those already possessed by the College and obtained from previous wars. These have been arranged chronologically, a brief printed description being placed by the side of each specimen. There is thus at present a very full collection of Gun-shot injuries, both old and recent, available for examination and study.

Notices drawing attention to this exhibition were published early in the year in the 'British Medical Journal,' in the anticipation that it might be made use of by those concerned with Military Surgery.

Besides the war specimens actually on view, a very considerable number are in various stages of preparation, and will be placed on exhibition by October next.

Additions to the Pathological Collection.—Although the specimens received are considerably below the usual number, most of them represent welcome and needed additions. Of these 35 have been mounted and described. To Dr. J. P. Hedley the College is indebted for a specimen of combined carcinoma and sarcoma. The specimens of bone-grafts which accompanied Major E. W. Hey Groves's Jacksonian Prize Essay are of particular merit. Lt.-Colonel H. J. Waring presented half of a vesical calculus of remarkable size and structure; also a perforated appendix surrounded by adherent omentum. The following gentlemen have also presented pathological specimens:—Mr. William Turner (giant-celled sarcoma of the patella); Dr. Walter S. A. Griffith (lipoma of the broad ligament); Mr. J. Hutchinson (6 casts of the hand illustrating varying degrees of Dupuytren's contracture); Major Lawford Knaggs (traumatic aneurysm of the surgical neck of the humerus); Sir Rickman J. Godlee, Bt. and Mr. J. D. Malcolm (various specimens); Mr. Shattock has contributed skulls, human and from the sheep, showing the different effects after being shot through in the empty state and when filled with water; and results of kindred experiments illustrating the explosive effects of bullets at short range.

Dr. W. B. Drummond of Baldovan Institution, Dundee, presented the brains of two Mongolian Idiots; Major J. R. Lee gave a specimen of Meckel's diverticulum contained within a hernial sac. To Sir Berkeley Moynihan, Mr. H. Tyrell Gray, and Dr. Philip Wilmot the College is indebted for specimens of diseased great intestines removed by operation. Examples of Megacolon (Hirschsprung's disease) have been received from Mr. H. Tyrell Gray, Captain C. Roberts, and Dr. C. G. B. Kempe.

Additions to the Teratological Collection.—Amongst several specimens received from the East End Mothers' Home, through Mr. Matthew Corner, special mention must be made of an anencephalic child which lived for four days and manifested a certain number of reflex movements. In a placenta to which triplets were attached—presented by the York Road Lying-in-Hospital through Miss O. Haydon—it was found possible to demonstrate a free communication between the umbilical arteries of the three fœtuses. This observation has a bearing on the production of "placental parasitic fœtuses"—a good example of which was presented by Mr. L. K. Harison of Leicester. Miss Elsie Hall gave a fœtus showing the condition known as periosteal dystrophy—which has a superficial resemblance to Achondroplasia. Other donors to this series are: Dr. George Milne (fœtus showing complete transposition of the viscera); Dr. E. A. Chill (fœtus with a large occipital encephalocele); Mr. George Pierce (anencephalic fœtus); and Dr. O. E. Powell (fœtus showing ectopia abdominalis); specimens were also received from Colonel Arnall Jones, Mr. H. H. Sturge, and Captain W. R. Higgins.

Physiological Series.—Mr. R. H. Burne reports of the Physiological Section of the Museum: "The specimens stored in the vaults of the College seem to have suffered no deterioration. Work has been confined mainly to revision of the catalogues and a review of the collection of dried Invertebrata. An investigation has been made of the viscera of an Okapi sent to the Museum for examination by Dr. Cuthbert Christy. This is the first occasion on which the viscera of this interesting Giraffid have been available for study. The results of this examination are being published in the 'Proceedings' of the Zoological Society. Progress has been made also with a report on the Anatomy of the Lamellibranchs collected by the Scott Antarctic Expedition." The Conservator takes this opportunity to mention that besides carrying on his duties at the Museum, Mr. Burne has given freely of his time, labour, and means to work directly concerned with the war.

Human Osteology and Anthropology.—Even in the course of operations connected with war discoveries of considerable scientific and archaeological value have come to light. Some of the specimens presented to the Museum during the past year illustrate discoveries of this kind. While making trenches in a prehistoric site in Wiltshire the skeleton of a young man, apparently buried during the Bronze Age (2000–600 B.C.), was unearthed. It was described by Capt. Lionel

West and presented to the Museum. The skull showed an extensive but partially healed fracture in the frontal region—apparently the result of a blow from a battle-axe. From Lieut. W. Bannerman was obtained a skeleton—apparently of the Roman period—found in a section made while trenching. Major G. E. Gask rescued another skeleton—of the Gallo-Roman period—from a section exposed during the alteration of a roadway in France. A calvaria showing most extensive wounds, but of unknown date, was discovered during trenching operations in one of the Eastern Counties and was presented to the Museum by Capt. A. Clavering Hardy. From Major C. Ashburnham the College has received a series of skeletons discovered during the exploration of a round barrow at Melcombe Bingham near Dorchester. Mr. C. H. Golding-Bird and Mr. S. A. E. Griffiths presented human remains from ancient graves (probably Saxon) discovered near Meopham, Kent. Mr. W. H. Mills presented a skull of mediæval date from Bermondsey Abbey. Dr. J. Elliott, of Chester, presented a very remarkable skull—one showing the typical features of Achondroplasia. It was found at Chester in a Roman Cemetery which has been very thoroughly investigated by the donor. To the Trustees of the British Museum (through Sir Hercules Read) the College is indebted for 8 more crania from ancient cemeteries of France.

To Dr. H. G. F. Spurrell, who has been a liberal donor to the Museum in former years, the College owes three very remarkable and complete skulls of natives of Ashanti. Lieut. D. Stanton presented the skull of an ancient Peruvian found by his father—the late Mr. R. Stanton—while exploring a prehistoric burial mound at Cachiri, Peru. Mrs. Tremearne has presented a craniometer invented by her husband—the late Major A. J. N. Tremearne of the Seaforth Highlanders, who fell in the battle of Loos, September 1915. Major Tremearne was a most promising anthropologist and was well known for investigations carried out on native races of West Africa.

Comparative Osteology.—During the past year a very valuable collection of the skulls and skeletons of Gorillas and Chimpanzees, collected in the German Cameroons, was for sale and seemed likely to pass to American collections. With great liberality Sir John Bland-Sutton acquired and presented to the Museum four complete gorilla skeletons, each representing a different stage in the growth of that rare anthropoid—also a complete skeleton of a Tschego (Chimpanzee) and several anthropoid skulls and brains. These form most welcome additions to our present series and will provide an opportunity of illustrating various stages in the growth of the gorilla which, in a structural sense, is man's nearest ally. Dr. H. G. F. Spurrell presented the skull of a fatal Colobus monkey from Ashanti. Professor R. Anthony, of the Natural History Museum, Paris, has been so good as to present to the Museum a duplicate model of an interesting stage in the development of the brain of the chimpanzee. A fœtal hippopotamus, from Uganda, was purchased.

Collection of Surgical Instruments.—From time to time there has been noted in these reports the service which Mr. Alban Doran is rendering to the Museum and to the history of Surgery in preparing a revised catalogue of the collection of Surgical Instruments in the possession of the College. He is now engaged in writing a descriptive catalogue of the instruments used in the practice of general surgery. He has completed an illustrated catalogue of the instruments and appliances known to have been in the possession of John Hunter. It has been arranged by the Museum Committee to have this addition to the catalogue published at an early date. In the arrangement of the instruments, and especially in their identification, Mr. Doran has received most valuable assistance from Dr. F. W. Cock and Mr. J. Barry Hopkins.

The following additions have been made to the Instrument Collection:—Dr. F. W. Cock: Two india-rubber ear-syringes with ivory nozzle and ivory cap—a very early type of rubber syringe. Dr. H. A. Lediard: His instrument for testing the colour-vision of railway employees, also an early pattern of Liebreich's ophthalmoscope. Messrs. Maw & Sons: Two old patterns of enema syringe. Dr. J. J. Berkart: Rubber catheter for supra-pubic cystotomy wound. Sir Francis H. Champneys, Bt.: India-rubber airball for exciting uterine contractions. Mr. Frank Corner: Chloroform bottle from old rolled midwifery case, formerly the property of Mr. F. M. Corner.

Museum Demonstrations.—Altogether 32 demonstrations were given in connection with the Museum. Twenty-four demonstrations on human anatomy were given by the Conservator, chiefly for the benefit of ambulance and first-aid students. These demonstrations were illustrated by preparations from the Museum. Six demonstrations were given by the Pathological Curator, Mr. Shattock, the subjects illustrated referring to military surgery, repair of wounds, and syphilis. Mr. J. F. Colyer, Honorary Curator of the Odontological Collection, gave two demonstrations on gunshot injuries of the jaws and methods of treatment. All the demonstrations were well attended.

Collection of Skiagrams and Drawings.—Additions to this collection have been made by Mr. David Greig, Dundee, Dr. R. Salmond, and Mr. D. A. H. Moses. A sketch drawn for and at one time the property of John Hunter, and some pages of manuscript in Mr. Clift's writing, were purchased. The sketch represents a duck which has partially assumed the plumage of a drake—a subject in which Hunter was greatly interested. Mr. B. B. Woodward presented, through Mr. Burne, manuscripts by Sir Richard Owen relating to Museum contents. Sir John Tweedy presented a scalp of a Red Indian. It was given to the donor by the late Dr. T. Wharton Jones.

Death of Sir Frederic Eve.—In the last Annual Report the death of Sir James Goodhart was noted; it is with regret that we record in this report the death of Sir Frederic Eve, who for nine years filled essentially the same office in the Museum as had been held by Sir James Goodhart. The office of Pathological Assistant was established in 1871; it was held first by Sir James Goodhart and then by Mr. Alban Doran. In 1881, when Mr. Doran resigned, the office was altered to that of Pathological Curator, Sir Frederic Eve being the first to hold the post under its new name. During the nine years of his Curatorship he assisted Sir James Paget to finish the 3rd edition of the Pathological Catalogue, and on the completion of that edition in 1885, he prepared Annual Appendices containing descriptions of the numerous specimens added to the Pathological Collection. During 1912-13 he served as Chairman of the Museum Committee, and all through his professional life took a direct and personal interest in the welfare of the Museum.

ARTHUR KEITH,

Conservator.

THE LIBRARY.

THE Library of the College dates from the year 1800, in July of which year the first grant of a sum not exceeding £50 was made for Library purposes. It had been the intention of the old Corporation of Surgeons to form a Library, but they failed to carry their intention into effect. In its early years the Library was considerably increased by presentations and bequests of books—the principal donors being Dr. Baillie, Sir Everard Home, Sir Charles Blicke, the widow of Mr. Sharp, Sir Ludford Harvey, Dr. Fleming, Mr. Cotton, and Mr. Long. The Court of Assistants also directed from time to time the expenditure of small sums of money for the purchase of books. Sir Charles Blicke, in the year 1816, invested the sum of £300, the proceeds of which were to be devoted to the same object. By these means extensive purchases were from time to time made from the libraries of Mr. Pitt, Mr. St. André, Sir Anthony Carlisle, and others. The progress of the Library, however, for the first twenty-six years of its existence was very slow, but in 1827 great efforts were made to put it in a thoroughly good condition; in that and the two subsequent years the sum of £5269 was spent in the purchase of books, and in 1829 the first Librarian was appointed. The College was practically rebuilt by Sir Charles Barry in 1835–36, and during that period the Library was closed, the books being packed in cases and stored in the Museum Gallery. On the 15th of February, 1837, the Library was re-opened, the rooms in the new building allotted to this department being the Reading-Room and the Librarian's Room. From this date until 1888 very little extra accommodation had been provided for the Library, a small Committee-Room had been fitted up with shelves and room made for a few books under the Theatre.

The munificent gift of Sir Erasmus Wilson enabled the Council in 1888 very materially to increase the Library accommodation, and at the same time to improve and re-decorate the existing building. The residence of the Conservator of the Museum at the east end of the College was pulled down, and the building erected on its site was devoted to Library purposes. On a level with the old Reading-Room an extension was built, the two rooms being connected by four archways, two on the ground and two in the Gallery. Beneath this a handsome Book-Room was provided, and below that a spacious Store-Room. The new building, as at present shelved, gives accommodation for 26,000 volumes. The Librarian's Room was considerably improved by throwing into it a loft above the old ceiling and a passage which led into the Reading-Room.

The whole of the Library premises were re-decorated, and the Electric Light was installed throughout. The heating apparatus, which was under the floor at the south side of the Library, was all removed, and in its place a coil of hot-water pipes was placed in each window. The gallery railing, being in an unsafe condition, was replaced by one of a stronger pattern.

This extension of the Library made it possible to re-arrange the books in such a way as to make them more accessible to readers. In the Gallery of the Extension stand the books on Anatomy, Physiology, Pathology, Medicine and Surgery; round the Reading-Room are ranged sets of the Periodicals and Transactions in greatest demand. There is also a good collection of dictionaries, encyclopædias, systems and general books of reference, conveniently arranged for the use of readers.

The lower room contains books on Chemistry and Physics, Materia Medica and Therapeutics, Forensic Medicine, Diseases of Women and Children, History of Medicine and Surgery, Biography and Bibliography. The basement is devoted to old sets of Journals and Transactions, a collection of Theses, and to miscellaneous books.

The Librarian's Room contains the books on Biology, and certain valuable works, including many Early Printed Books, which are kept in glass cases.

The current numbers of the Journals are displayed on tables down the middle of the Reading-Room: four of these are fitted with sliding trays, in which books too large for the wall-cases, and illustrated works still in progress, are kept. The new books are placed on a stand in the centre of the Room; these are catalogued directly they are received, and are at once available for readers. A list of the additions is posted in the Library.

The first Catalogue of the Library was issued in 1831. A classed Catalogue was prepared by Dr. Willis, and was in use in MS. for some years; in 1838 a synopsis of it was printed, and the work itself was published in 1843. In 1853 an index of subjects was issued, and four supplements to the Author Catalogue were published between the years 1840 and 1860. In 1890 a List of Transactions, Periodicals, and Memoirs in the Library was published. A new Catalogue of Authors and Subjects is now being prepared on cards; these are kept in cabinets at the west end of the Reading-Room, and are available for use by the readers. When the work is finished the cards can be used as copy for the printers.

The Library is particularly rich in the Transactions of Societies, and in Periodicals relating not only to Medicine and Surgery, but also to the accessory sciences. The large illustrated works on Zoology, Anatomy, &c., are also well represented. There is a good collection of Portraits of Members of the Medical Profession.

In December 1892 a Common Room for the use of Fellows and Members was opened in the Reading Room adjoining the Entrance Hall.

A new Store Room for books was fitted up in the basement in 1901, and in 1907 a new room with an annexe was added in proximity to the gallery of the large Library.

During the past year the supply of books and periodicals has been well kept up. The Donations in the order of their presentation were as follows:—"Treatment of Diseases of the Skin," Edit. 2, 1916, from the author, Dr. W. Knowsley Sibley; four reprints of papers, from Dr. Bayard Holmes: "Traumatic Pneumonia and Traumatic Tuberculosis," from the author, Dr. Parkes Weber, together with other reprints; "First Principles in Therapeutics," from the author, Dr. Goldsbrough; "Henry Hill Hickman, M.R.C.S., an English Pioneer of Anaesthesia," from the author, the Curator of the Wellcome Historical Medical Museum; "Bulletin of the New York Post-Graduate Medical School and Hospital," Volume i, nos. 2-12, and Volume ii, nos. 1-2, 1915-16, from the Editor; Folklore, June 30, 1916, with his article on the "Pharmakes," from Mr. Morley

The following are the notable Donations and Acquisitions of the past year:—

From Sir John Tweedy:—An extremely rare example (one of two, or possibly three, reprints) of the "Religio Medici," dated at Norwich in 1829, and produced under the supervision of Mr. S. Willken, from whom it passed to Dr. Greenhill of Oxford and then to the present Donor. (The volume, a 4to, is accompanied by a MS. descriptive of the finding of Sir Thomas Browne's coffin and by a photograph of his skull); Pognon's "Une Version Syriaque des Aphorismes d'Hippocrate," 2 parts, 1903; Henschel's "De Praxi Medica Salernitana Commentatio," 1850; Roser's Jubilee Tribute to Georg W. F. Wenderoth, 1851; Henry P. Horton's translation of Bonger's "Criminality and Economic Conditions," 1916; Burggraevo's "Génie de la Chirurgie Contemporaine," 1878; "Rapport sur les Progrès de la Chirurgie," 1867, par Denonvilliers, Nélaton, Velpeau, etc.; Hunt's "Historical Surgery," 1801; Riverius's "Practice of Physick," 1678; Madison Grant's "The Passing of the Great Race," 1916; Lombroso-Ferrero's "Criminal Man according to the Classification of Cesare Lombroso," 1911; forty-five pamphlets on medical and scientific subjects, and some autograph letters; from Viscount Knutsford, Wyon's bronze medal with portrait of Sir Benjamin Brodie, presented to Brodie by colleagues and pupils in 1841; from the Conservator (Dr. Keith) unique photographic reproduction of the twenty-three plates, with explanatory text, of A. Numan's "Verhandeling over de onvruchtbare Runderen, bekend onder den Naam van Kweenen," 4to, published at Utrecht in 1843. (This costly reproduction of probably the only book known on the subject of Free Martinus was originally presented to the Museum by Dr. David Berry Hart, in 1912); water-colour sketch by John Hunter of a duck, showing transformation of sexual characters. (This, John Hunter's first sketch in point of time, was the property of the Richard Owen family, from whom it passed to Dr. Elkind, a Russian resident in London, and by him was sold to the College in 1917. Accompanying the sketch are six fragments of John Hunter autograph MS., one of which runs as follows:—"In an old Duck that had become a Drake in Feather, I often observed that she made a noise like the Drake, and at other times like the Duck as usual." This memorandum was at one time in possession of his niece, Joanna Baillie, the dramatist); reprint from the "Archæologia Cambrensis," July, 1916, containing Dr. Keith's paper on the Human Remains in the St. Nicholas Chambered Tumulus, Glamorgan; "The Basle Anatomical Nomenclature," by E. B. Jameson, 1916. (It should here be noted that the Library Catalogue follows the traditional English nomenclature, with due reference, where necessary, to that of Basle. Cf. the advice contained in Dr. Keith's Letter in Brit. Med. Journ. July 28, 1917); from Mr. Alban Doran—Halban and Tandler's "Anatomie und Actiologie der Genitalprolapse beim Weibe," 1907; Kelly's "Cyclopædia of American Medical Biography," 2 vols., 1912; "Transactions of the American Gynecological Society," Volumes 37-40, 1912-15; Martin's "Krankheiten des Beckenbindegewebes," 1906, and "Pathologie und Therapie der Frauchenkrankheiten," Edit. 4, 1907; Veit's "Handbuch der Gynäkologie," 2 vols., Edit. 2, 1907, and Band 3, Parts 1 & 2, 1908; "Obstetrical and Gynecological Reports of the Sloane Hospital for Women, New York City," Volume i, 1913; "The Relation of the Glands of Internal Secretion to Gynecology and Obstetrics" (Official Report of the American Gynecological Society), 1917; Reports of the American Gynecological Society on Syphilis in its relation to Obstetrics and Gynecology," 1916; and a photograph of himself for the Fellow's Album (to which we take this opportunity of courteously inviting similar donations); from Mr. Burne two old medical autograph letters (one from Dr. W. D. Jones to Sir Humphry Davy, dated Jan. 8, 1822); from Dr. W. T. Guthrie, President in 1833, etc., dated "Merida, August 27, 1817." (The letter is addressed to Inspector-General Fergusson and describes the faulty medical service in the Peninsula, incidentally mentioning the possibility of a friendly understanding with the French surgeons. It covers four pages of close writing on foolscap paper); from Miss Lane-Claypon, M.B., B.S., a valuable collection, originally purchased from the library of a French scientific man, of works on the Ovary. (Miss Lane-Claypon has read constantly in the Library. The collection includes 19 monographs and 40 reprints, besides two bound vols. of pamphlets); from Messrs. Butterworth photographs, mainly fourth size, of the Hunter Instruments, lancet-case, pocket-scales, etc., in the College Collections; from Mr. William Dring, M.R.C.S., a portrait in crayon of Robert Liston, presented by Liston to Robert Swinford Francis, one of his pupils and dressers, in 1834, and considered an excellent likeness by both. (It is probably the original sketch for the engraving of Liston after the painting by A. Turner, A.R.A., or that by W. Bagg); from Mr. S. B. M. de Barroz, of 74 Greencroft Gardens, N.W., through the kindness of Dr. F. Wood Jones, a large collection of works on old Medicine, Surgery, etc., from the library of Dr. N. Lister. Thus has the Library been enriched. During the tenure of office of the present Librarian, which has now lasted twenty years, the number of volumes has increased by about one thousand annually. In this way, from less than 50,000 volumes in 1897 the Library has now risen to a total of over 70,000 volumes, of which very few are duplicates. All these books are now duly indexed, the Catalogue having been completed in the same period (1897-1917).

During the past year the Library has been open 279 days, and the number of readers has been 5154.

VICTOR G. PLARR,
Librarian.

August 1, 1917.

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE LIBRARY.

The LIBRARY is open on each week-day, except Saturday, from 11 A.M. to 6 P.M. or, during the winter months, to the hour for screening lights. It is closed in September, on Bank Holidays, and on the Saturday before each Monday Bank Holiday. On Saturday the Library closes at 1 P.M.

The removal of any book from the Reading-Room by Readers is strictly forbidden.

Readers are permitted to take books from the shelves for use in the Reading-Room; but they are requested not to return the books to their places, but to leave them on the Table.

Members of the College have the privilege of personally introducing a Visitor.

Persons, not Members, desirous of admission, must make application in writing to the Librarian, specifying their Christian name and Surname, Rank or Profession, and Residence. The application must be accompanied by a letter from a Fellow or Member, recommending that a Ticket be granted to the applicant. Tickets of admission, which are not transferable, are granted for six months; at the expiration of this time application must be made for their renewal.

In the case of Students the application must be made on a form, which may be obtained from the Librarian. Students' Tickets are granted for three months, and at the expiration of this time application must be made for their renewal.

The Catalogue is in Cabinets at the west end of the Room. Readers are requested to make personal application to the Librarian for any book they do not find in the Catalogue.

Readers, taking extracts from any book, may not lay the paper on which they write on any part of such book; nor may tracings be taken from any plate without the permission of the Librarian.

No note or comment shall be written in or upon any book belonging to the College. Any one observing a defect in a book is requested to report the same to the Librarian.

Readers desirous of consulting works not in the Library are requested to enter their wants in a Book provided for that purpose, in order that the same may be reported to the Committee.

Every person before admission to the Library is required to write his name and address in a Book kept for that purpose in the Entrance Hall.

Walker Prize.

1. The Walker Prize shall be awarded for the best work in advancing the knowledge of the Pathology and Therapeutics of Cancer done, either partially or wholly, within the five years preceding the year in which the Prize shall be awarded.

2. The next award of the Prize shall be for the five years ending the 31st December, 1920.

3. The Prize shall consist of a gift of £100. A document declaratory of the award, sealed with the College Seal and signed by the President, shall be presented with the Prize.

4. The Prize shall be awarded by the Council on the recommendation of a Committee at the Quarterly Meeting of the Council in the April following the expiration of the quinquennial period. The Council shall not, however, award the Prize should they not consider any work deserving of it.

5. The Committee shall consist of five Members and shall be appointed by the Council not less than one year prior to the date of the award of the Prize. The Committee shall not of necessity be confined to Members of the Council.

6. The grounds upon which the Prize is awarded shall be made public at the time of the award.

7. The Prize shall be open to foreigners as well as to British subjects, and the Committee shall not be restricted in any way as to the selection of persons qualified to receive the Prize, with the exception that Members of the Council shall not be eligible.

NOTE.—It is not intended that Essays should be submitted in competition for this Prize, or that those who are anxious to obtain it should be called upon to submit their names as Candidates. It is hoped, however, that the knowledge of the reward which may be obtained, and the distinction which it will confer on its recipient, will prove an incentive to those who are occupied in the study of this disease.

John Tomes Prize.

1. The John Tomes Prize shall be awarded triennially.

2. The Prize shall consist of the amount of the interest accruing from the John Tomes Fund during the triennial period (about £30). A document, declaratory of the award, sealed with the College Seal, and signed by the President, shall be presented with the Prize.

3. The Prize shall be open to any person registered under the Dentists' Act of 1878, who shall hold a Diploma in Dental Surgery of one of the Licensing Bodies in Great Britain or Ireland included in the Schedule of the said Act.

4. The Prize shall be awarded for original or other scientific work, done either partially or wholly within the triennial period, on the subjects of Dental Surgery and Pathology, Dental Anatomy and Physiology (including Histology), or Dental Mechanics.

5. The Prize shall be awarded by the Council on the recommendation of a Committee at the Quarterly Meeting of the Council in the April following the expiration of the triennial period. The Council shall, however, withhold the Prize if, in the opinion of the Committee, no work within the prescribed time be of sufficient merit to justify its award, and in such case shall either invest the dividends to augment the capital of the Fund, or adjudge the Prize to the author of some original research, deserving recognition, in other than dental subjects, which may have been carried out by any person eligible for the Prize.

6. The Committee shall consist of five members, and shall be appointed by the Council not less than one year prior to the date of the award of the Prize. The Committee shall not of necessity be confined to Members of the Council.

7. No essays shall be submitted in competition for the Prize in the case of the next award, which shall be for the period ending the 31st December, 1917: but it shall be open to the Committee to recommend to the Council that essays should be called for before any subsequent award.

Cartwright Prize.

1. The Cartwright Prize will be awarded quinquennially, and the next award will be for the five years ending 31st December, 1920.

2. The Prize consists of a Medal executed in bronze and an honorarium of £85.

3. The subject for the essays to be submitted in competition for the Prize is "The treatment of injuries of the jaws, and the restoration by mechanical means of parts of the jaws lost as the result of injury or removed on account of disease."

4. Candidates for the Prize must be persons engaged in the study or practice of Dental Surgery and possessing qualifications capable of registration under the Medical Acts of the United Kingdom. (A Diploma or Licence in Dental Surgery without a Medical or Surgical Diploma or Degree will not be a sufficient qualification.)

5. The Prize will be awarded to the author of the best essay written in English upon the proposed subject, if such essay is considered of sufficient merit.

6. Every essay must have a motto or device and must be accompanied by a sealed paper containing the name and address of the author, and having on the outside a motto or device corresponding with the motto or device on the essay.

7. Each essay must be addressed to the Secretary of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, and delivered at the College not later than 4 o'clock p.m. on the 31st December, 1920.

8. The manuscript Prize essay and every accompanying drawing and preparation will become the property of the Royal College of Surgeons of England.

9. Every unapproved essay which is unclaimed at the expiration of twelve months from the date of its receipt will be returned, with any accompanying drawing and preparation, to the author thereof at the address given in the sealed envelope.

Begley Studentship.

1. The Begley Studentship shall consist of the dividends derived from the Begley Bequest, viz.: £20 per annum, and shall be tenable for three years, subject to the conditions hereinafter mentioned.

2. The Studentship shall be awarded in April 1918, and thereafter triennially, or at such time as any Studentship may become vacant.

3. The Studentship shall be open, on the occasion of the fifth award, to any Candidate admitted to the Second Examination of the Conjoint Examining Board in England held in March or April 1918.

4. The Studentship shall be awarded to the Candidate, if any, obtaining the highest number of marks in the Anatomical part of the Examination.

5. If two or more Candidates in the Anatomical part of the Examination shall obtain an equal number of marks, being with respect to the other Candidates the highest number of marks obtained by any Candidate, reference shall be made to the marks obtained by them respectively in the Physiological part of the Examination, and on the combined result the adjudication shall be made; and, if their marks shall still be equal, it shall be open to the two senior Examiners in Anatomy appointed by the Royal College of Surgeons to call upon such Candidates to present themselves for further examination, or to take such other steps as may enable them to adjudicate in the matter.

6. The examiners shall report their adjudication of the Studentship to the Council at the Meeting of the Council next succeeding the Examination.

7. The Stipend shall be paid yearly, and the Student shall receive the first instalment within three months after the award of the Studentship.

8. The Student shall be required, before payment of the second and third instalments respectively, to send to the Secretary of the Royal College of Surgeons of England a Certificate from the Dean of his Medical School to the effect that his conduct has been satisfactory and that he has been applying himself diligently to his studies, and should any Student fail to comply with this requirement he shall forfeit his Studentship and all future payments in respect thereof.

REGULATIONS OF THE COUNCIL RELATING TO MEETINGS OF FELLOWS AND MEMBERS.

1. A Meeting of Fellows and Members shall be summoned annually for the Thursday following the Ordinary Meeting of the Council in November, or for such other time as the Council may determine.

2. Other Meetings may be summoned, either with or without a requisition, at such times and for such objects as may by the Council be thought desirable.

3. Such requisition shall be signed by not less than 30 Fellows and Members, or Fellows or Members, and shall contain a statement of the object or objects for which the Meeting is requested.

4. At the Annual Meeting the Report of the Council shall be presented.

5. Motions introduced by Fellows or Members

- (a) shall have direct reference to the object or objects for which the Meeting has been summoned ;

6. The President shall determine what Motions are in order and direct the arrangement of the Agenda.

7. The Quorum of each Meeting shall be 30, and if, at the expiration of 15 minutes from the hour for which the Meeting has been summoned, a Quorum be not present, the Meeting shall not take place. If, after the commencement of the Meeting, it shall be found upon a count that a Quorum be not present, the Meeting shall be dissolved.

8. The President or one of the Vice-Presidents, or in their absence the Senior Member of the Council present, shall be Chairman of the Meeting, and the Chairman's decision shall be final upon all points of order which may arise.

9. Not less than three week's notice of each Meeting shall be given by advertisement.

10. The Agenda paper shall be prepared 3 days before the Meeting, and shall be issued to any Fellow or Member who shall have applied for it.
